

Trapped By Fire Mrs. French Jumps From First Storey

CAUSES HEAVY LOSS AT HOME OF CHICK
HATCHERY MAN
IS OUTSIDE TOWN

A disastrous fire struck at the home of Frank French, on the north side of Gorham St. beyond the town limits, last Friday. The loss was estimated at over $5,000, with insurance coverage of $3,000. The fire destroyed some valuable antique furniture. Mr. French was downtown at his chick hatchery on Botsford St. at the time the fire started, around 10:30 a.m. Mrs. French had gone out of the house to look after some poultry, and returned to find the kitchen a mass of smoke. She threw snow on the fire, but was unable to make any progress. She ran to the telephone to give an alarm, and then went upstairs to try to save some things. While she was upstairs the fire spread rapidly, and she was unable to come down again. So she threw some bedding out of a window and jumped on it, landing safely without any broken bones. The Bell Telephone Co. operator heard the words, "fire at French's," and nothing more.

DO YOU HAVE ONLY ONE BIRTHDAY IN FOUR?

The Era will be delighted to receive names, addresses and ages (and pictures if possible) of people in this district marking a birthday on Thursday, Feb. 29.

She rang in the alarm immediately and informed the manager. The Bell officials thought that Mrs. French might have fainted at the telephone, and Harold McClelland and C. W. Holmes rushed out by car. They found Mrs. French sitting on the veranda steps in a dazed condition.

The fire truck arrived at about the same time, but the fire was well under way by that time, and the water supply was limited, as the fire was beyond reach of town hydrants. The firemen, under Chief W. W. Osborne, used up all the water in a pond at the back of the house, but without success.

The fire gained headway steadily, and in a few hours destroyed the entire house, leaving only two brick walls standing. Mrs. French thought that the fire must have started from a live coal.

ENTHUSE OVER NEW PARTY'S OPENING GUNS

REV. GEO. DIX NAMED AS NATIONAL GOVERNMENT CANDIDATE

OTHERS WITHDRAW

It was just like old times, Conservatives declared following their "national government" convention in the Newmarket town hall on Saturday. The party stalwarts were recalling the victorious days of the late "Herb" Lennox, and hoped that the Rev. George Dix, carrying the new national government mantle, would win back the riding.

REV. GEORGE DIX

Rev. Mr. Dix, a war-time padre, was selected from a wide field of candidates. All others withdrew in his favor.

Mr. Dix was the Reconstruction candidate in North York in 1935, and in Newmarket polled a large vote than the Conservative candidate.

At that time, Mr. Dix was pastor of Aurora Presbyterian church. He is now pastor of a Presbyterian church in Truro, Nova Scotia. He went home this week to break the news to his wife that he is in politics again.

Mr. Dix was born in Vaughan township, near Woodbridge. The convention was called by the North York National Conservative association, with J. E. Nesbitt presiding. The convention, by resolution, became a convention of the "national government" party, and Mr. Nesbitt turned the meeting over to Reeve Fred A. Lundy of Newmarket, to preside over the election of officers of the new organization.

CUBS LOSE MATCH

Last Saturday afternoon the Wolf Cubs were trimmed badly in an ice battle by the boys of the Christian Endeavor of the Christian church. The Endeavor boys were a trifle older and a much faster team than the Cubs. John Sheard played very well for the winners and netted most of their goals. The score was 7-1 for the Christian Endeavor boys.

This Friday the Cub meeting will start at 6:45 sharp. All Cubes are to be on hand at this time. This Saturday the Wolf Cubs play the Anglican church at the arena. Come on Cubs and let's see a better score than last week.

Through an error an article by "Golden Glow" which was to have appeared last week before the World Day of Prayer was omitted. It will now be used in an early issue.

The regular monthly meeting of the senior ladies' aid and missionary society of the Christian Congregational church will be held at the home of Mrs. James Hamsden, Prospect Ave., on Thursday, Feb. 22, at 2:30 p.m.

PAY TRIBUTE TO LORD TWEEDSMUIR AT MEMORIAL SERVICE AT TRINITY

High school and public schools were dismissed on Wednesday afternoon at 2:45 p.m. to enable the students to attend the commemoration service for His Excellency, the Governor-General, which was held at Trinity United church.

Dr. D. McIntyre opened the service and Rev. R. R. McMath took the responsive reading. Rev. Arthur Greer read the lesson from St. John, 14. Rev. Burton Hill offered the prayer. Rev. A. J. Patstone gave the address. Mr. Patstone chose as the text of his address Psalm 89: 10, "I have exalted one chosen out of the people."

"As we gather here today our hearts go out to those who, in Ottawa or overseas, are mourning the loss of husband and father," he said. "John Buchan was a lover of home. The

TRANS-CANADA STORY WILL BE TOLD

As part of the entertainment at a bingo night at the Newmarket town hall, Friday, Feb. 23, sponsored by St. John's school of aviation, H. D. Harding, traffic representative, Trans-Canada Airlines, Toronto, will show an outstanding film in sound and color. For some months the preparation of T.C.A.'s first movie has gone on from coast-to-coast and the complete operation of Canada's trans-continental airline makes a gripping story that is thrilling audiences wherever it is shown. Beautiful moving panoramic views of Canada's major cities taken from several thousand feet up, glimpses of the beautiful scenery along the 3,000 mile route of the T.C.A., close-ups of Lockheed airliners, of the maintenance shops, airports, pilots, stewardesses, detailed shots of weather reporting, dispatching, meals aloft, all make the movie an outstanding bit of entertainment that is almost as good as a trip itself. Shown here is one of the powerful, twin-engine Lockheed airliners of Trans-Canada Airlines that whisk passengers, mail and express across the dominion at 190 miles per hour.

Liberals Expected To Endorse Mulock Here On Saturday

ELECT OFFICERS AND NAME CANDIDATE FOR ELECTION
SMITH PRESIDES

Liberals of North York riding meet in convention in the Newmarket town hall on Saturday afternoon.

Business will include election of officers and nomination of a candidate.

W. P. Mulock, M.P., and Morgan Baker, M.L.A., will discuss the federal election campaign issues.

President J. E. Smith of Richmond Hill will preside. It is a foregone conclusion that the nomination will go again to Col. "Bill" Mulock, who has won the riding in the last two votes, 1934 and 1935. The "Mulock" name has been associated with politics in this riding since Col. Mulock's grandfather, now Sir William, won the riding as a young lawyer many, many years ago.

MERCHANTS FAVOR FRIDAY MARKET

A variety of topics of interest to merchants were discussed at a round-table meeting of the board of trade in the council chamber last Thursday evening. About 25 attended.

President Alex. Eves presided, but due to confusion concerning the meeting and many absent as a result, it was agreed that the meeting should be strictly informal. All present expressed themselves as in favor of a Friday afternoon market.

A majority seemed to be opposed to Wednesday afternoon closing while business conditions were not of the best.

Other suggestions of interest to the merchants, to increase the trade and usefulness of the local stores, were discussed.

The next meeting will be held in the council chamber on Friday evening, Feb. 23.

MONTHLY MEETING WILL BE HELD ON FEB. 22

The regular monthly meeting of the senior ladies' aid and missionary society of the Christian Congregational church will be held at the home of Mrs. James Hamsden, Prospect Ave., on Thursday, Feb. 22, at 2:30 p.m.

ANGLO-SAXONS HAVE MORE TOOTH DECAY

Monday, March 11, will be dental hygiene day in Newmarket. Lectures will be given at the schools and before adult groups by workers of the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council in co-operation with the Ontario department of education.

Dr. Harry Thompson addressed a group gathered together by the Home and School Association executive and presided over by Burton Hill in the council chamber on Tuesday evening.

Tooth disease accounts for many other bodily ailments, Dr. Thompson said. Anglo-Saxons have a far higher proportion of tooth decay than other races due to the refined and unnatural foods they eat, he said. He recommended "washing" the teeth, forcing the brush right in between the teeth to remove the carbohydrates which would turn to enamel-eating acids, after every meal. Meats and fruits between the teeth would never cause tooth decay, he said.

After hearing Miss Mitchell's message of the need in these far-away settlements in Canada, and of the wonderful work done by missionaries in the face of much hardship, those present realized there is in making this possible.

The meeting was in the charge of Mrs. W. J. Thompson, vice-president of Toronto centre W.M.S. Miss Jean Hunter sang a very appropriate solo, "The Little Black Sheep."

BROTHER OF HARRY HELMER DIES IN WEST

A Newmarket and Sharon boy who had an interesting career, Frank Herbert Helmer, died in Medicine Hat on Jan. 29. He was a brother of W. H. Helmer of Newmarket.

Frank Helmer was born at Sharon on Aug. 23, 1876, the second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Helmer. He received his education at Sharon and Newmarket and later served a three-year apprenticeship in the tailoring trade, in which he engaged for a short time.

He reached Medicine Hat in 1900 and after being in other employment entered the train service of the C. P. R. in 1904. In 1907 he was promoted to conductor, which position he held until the time of his death. The unusual position he had won in the esteem and affections of the western city was indicated by the tributes paid to him by a host of organizations and individuals.

Surviving are his widow, three sons, Walter, Beaver Lodge, Alta., Hugh, Medicine Hat, Frank R., Washington, D.C., two daughters, Mrs. C. C. Smith, Maple Creek, Alta., Mrs. D. S. Hawthorne, and two brothers, Harry, Newmarket, and Robert, New Liskeard.

Mr. Helmer was married first to Annie Ogilvie, Bradford, who died in 1910. In 1927 he married Annie L. Carle, who survives him.

The next tournament will be in Newmarket on Monday, Feb. 19, when Newmarket will be hosts to the Markham club.

Beaverton Ties Up Score In Powerful Push, Gibbons Off

EVERYTHING DEPENDS ON TONIGHT'S RETURN
GAME
PLAY TONIGHT

By RALPH M. ADAMS

A disastrous penalty to Stan Gibbons for slashing, with 20 minutes to play, gave the Beaverton attack the advantage and impetus it required to tie the count 5-5 in the first play-off game of the group in the northern town last Tuesday night.

After turning in a first-class effort in every department, Stan had to get that unnecessary penalty at the crucial moment when the reds needed every defender they could muster. Until the break so late in the game the locals had the better of the play throughout the encounter and looked like sure winners.

However, this Beaverton clan has what it takes when it comes to fight. One tough break the locals got in the first period was the loss of Cliff Gunn, who crashed into McCrae when they were both after the puck. The shock hit Gunn in the head and he received a slight concussion.

Eds In Driver's Seat

Less than two minutes had elapsed of the first period when Stan Gibbons dented the twine for the redmen after a spirited attack on the Beaverton net. Then Stan got the gate for cross-checking and the Beaverton outfit moved in to the attack, with Snodden tying the count with a little less than three minutes of the game gone. McCrae had a beautiful chance to put the Beaverton clan one up but Gardner beat him.

At 5:30 Broughton put the locals up when he batted the puck in from a scramble. Hamilton had a nice chance when he broke through alone but his skates hit a bump and down he went with his opportunity. The northerners again tied the score at 11 minutes. Snodden again tallying. Gardner pulled two nice stops just before the period ended.

Apps and Gale sent the Beaverton gang into the lead after only a minute and a half of the second period when the former took the latter's relay and beat Gardner cleanly. Then both teams turned the juice on and play was fast and inclined to be rough throughout this period.

At one time both Bone and Gardner were in the net to keep the old host heel out when the Beaverton attack was at its height.

Jack Luck batted in the tying goal past Koch from a scramble in front of the Beaverton net at 11:30. Newmarket had plenty of chances to score after the tying goal but just couldn't click. Just before the bell through-out broke through alone but Koch beat him with a sprawling save.

Beaverton Overcomes Lead After the rest Newmarket came out like the four horsemen and turned on the speed, with Broughton punching the score board at 2:00 on a combination effort with Stan Gibbons. Right back at 3:45 came the redmen to lull again, with Stan Gibbons firing the goal through a flurry of players after Dennis had supplied the relay from the blueline.

Luck got the gate for elbowing Gord Dane. Immediately the Beaverton team put the pressure on and Gardner had to be good. During this gangling Gardner beat both Apps and Dane when they had nobody to stop them. Both teams he sprang in front of the forwards to smother what looked like sure counters.

Then came the debacle. In an attack on the Beaverton net Stan Gibbons yanked Snodden's pins out from under him and took his disastrous rest. The Beaverton attack opened up full blast with the reds a man short but Gardner beat them twice when they broke through. Then Gale started on his rampage, scoring the first goal at 18:40 and the tying one at 19:20 and the old game was over.

Thus it is that the redmen go into the second game on even terms with Beaverton instead of carrying a two-goal lead. On the play they certainly deserved that margin but again the Beaverton six displayed that they could come back when they were down and that spirit counts for plenty.

However, tonight's another night and the locals should take the series in tonight's game for the right to meet Markham.

The teams: Beaverton—goal, Koch; defence, Vall and Doyle; centre, Apps; wings, Gale and Dane; forwards, McCrae, Currie, Morrison, Snodden and McCrae.

Newmarket—goal, Gardner; defence, Dennis and Gunn; centre, Jack Gibbons; wings, Stan Gibbons and Broughton; forwards, Apps, Hamilton, Bone and McLains.

Referee: Jack Bennett, Toronto.

TREES MEAN WATER SUPPLY -- FORESTER

"Deforestation is the primary cause of floods," declared M. A. Adamson, superintendent of the

M. A. ADAMSON

Midhurst forestry station, in an illustrated address before the Newmarket Lions club on Monday evening. President Jack Luck was in the chair.

"Due to their great forest areas, Norway and Sweden have no floods," he said.

"Reforestation work in Ontario started in Guelph," Mr. Adamson said. "The county forest system was started in 1922. After Guelph, the Orr lake forest area was started. Dufferin forest was third, Angus fourth."

The speaker explained that demonstration wood-lots were privately owned properties which had been taken care of properly with the help of government advice.

Mr. Adamson advocated the use of pines as the best growing tree in light land. The cones are gathered up while green, he said, and are cured and dried at Angus. The seed is sown in the fall, with no water for the first month. During the first year the young trees are shaded and irrigated. The second year they are just irrigated.

"For nursery stock we are chiefly interested in developing long, fibrous roots," Mr. Adamson said.

"Trees for wind-breaks are planted six feet apart in well-cultivated land. The benefit of a wind-break is shown by the fact that every mile an hour the wind blows is equivalent to one degree more cold."

Indirect benefits of reforestation, Mr. Adamson said, include assuring a better water supply, more water in streams, drawing tourists, attracting bird life.

School boards should take an active interest in the work of reforestation and rural beautification, Mr. Adamson stated.

Federation Of Democracies Is Hope For Peace -- Rabbi

RABBI EISENDRATH DISCUSSES POSSIBILITIES OF PER-MANENT PEACE

Expressing agreement with the viewpoint expounded in Clarence Streit's book, "Union Now," in which he finds the hope of peace in a federation of democracies, Rabbi Maurice Eisendrath of Toronto spoke on the subject, "Will it be Peace?" at a forum held at Pickering College on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Pickering College community extension service.

"So much for the worse does the world seem to be altering that there are few optimistic enough to feel that there will be a world of lasting and abiding peace," stated Rabbi Eisendrath. "I don't think any of us can refute the evidence that in spite of all the glory and unprecedented achievements of modern man, so far as war is concerned we are back at the level of the cave man."

"In asking the question, 'Will there be peace?' I don't mean when armies will be demobilized. Of course they will. There always comes a conclusion to humanity's various wars. There will be peace in the sense of stopping of hostilities. What I mean is, 'Will there be permanent peace?'"

"It is 3,000 years since Isaiah first envisaged a warless world. Throughout the 3,000 years the history of mankind has been one of war. Our history books over-emphasize the military aspect of social evolution. We have stressed too much the military heroes of the human race. Between the years 1100 and 1800 France and England were in conflict with each other virtually 35 per cent of the time."

"Not until the dawn of the present century did men begin to hope of building a warless world," said the rabbi. "Then came the heartbreak and disillusionment of the Great War, but even this did not break the spirit of all who dreamed of a world without war. We feel that there would never again be the carnage of war and the fearful faring forth to the battlefield and that man had learned his lesson."

Rabbi Eisendrath outlined the various steps of reconstruction which followed the last war and the breakdown of the instruments thus set up, culminating in the march into Austria, Czechoslovakia and then Poland.

VOTERS' LISTS ARE RUSHED FOR ELECTION

VICTOR HALL, RETURNING OFFICER, IS SWAMPED WITH NAMES

A whirlwind job was done by federal voters' lists enumerators last week. Beginning Monday morning, three groups of two men each called at every home in town, finishing on Friday evening.

They then had to have their lists typed and arranged in alphabetical order, to be sent to the returning officer, Victor Hall, King City.

Mr. Hall, who was swamped with lists from every part of the riding, had then to check them all and turn them over to the printers, who had another rush job on their hands to complete the preliminary lists by this Saturday.

Enumerators for Newmarket were: St. Andrew's, E. A. Boyd, Wm. Young; St. George's, James McLane, Charles Hayes; St. Patrick's, John Duffield, Carl Rose.

The election is on Tuesday, March 26.

COLLEGE WILL HOLD COMMEMORATION SERVICE

MRS. JOHN ROSAMOND CELEBRATES 85TH BIRTHDAY

Celebrating her 85th birthday yesterday (St. Valentine's day), Mrs. John Rosamond, Victoria Ave., was pleasantly surprised when a large number of Anglican church members and other friends dropped in during the afternoon and evening to wish her "many happy returns of the day."

Mrs. Rosamond, besides receiving a large number of birthday and Valentine greetings, was presented with a lovely bouquet of spring flowers by St. Paul's W. A., of which she has been a charter member since its inauguration over 25 years ago.

POLICE REPORT

In this issue we publish Chief Constable James Sloss's report. It is evident from the report that the chief takes his duties seriously, and that the council of a couple of years ago which appointed him made an excellent choice. The report is long, but it is necessarily long to give the public an understanding and appreciation of the work done by Chief Sloss and Constable Kenneth Mount, two capable policemen. For our own part, we had no idea, although our work brings us into frequent contact with the police, that they had so many duties to attend to. One must bear in mind that in addition to the work outlined in this report, Chief Sloss is relief officer (a linking up of duties of which we do not approve) and sanitary inspector, and Constable Mount is principally concerned with Main St. night-watchman duties.

Commendation Deserved

No doubt the report will be discussed by the town council at an early meeting. Probably there will be commendation of not only the police work, but also of the industry of the chief in compiling such an elaborate and detailed report. A police report, we believe is something new in Newmarket municipal annals.

Please Advise Us

In concluding we call attention to Chief Sloss's statement that he carries a revolver. Without arguing the point at any length at this time, we will say that we disapprove. We believe that the police of London, England, unless there has been a recent change, do not usually carry firearms, but would be glad to receive definite information on this point.

THE ELECTION

As usual, political issues do not seem to be clear, and independent-thinking people will soon begin to suspect another battle between the ins and the outs. Since confederation have there been more than three general elections when a clear-cut question was put to the electors: 1878, tariff protection of home industry, proposed by the Conservatives; 1911, tariff reciprocity with the United States, proposed by the Liberals; 1917, conscription, proposed by Liberal-Conservatives? Other elections have been largely a question of choice of personnel and a hope on the part of the electors that by voting out particular governments, they could vote out bad times. The electors have been asked to vote for the "old leader, the old flag and the old policy," but they have seldom thought that there was any larger question involved than a change of leaders.

The Liberals Say

Now what are the issues being presented to the public in the approaching general election? Let us listen to the government party first. It is a question of national unity, they say. They say that the government by withholding Canada's declaration of war until parliament had assembled, and by campaigning against the Duplessis government in Quebec, held the people of this country together. They say that the present government has made a good job of prosecuting the war, and should be given authority to carry on. They deny charges of inefficiency and corruption.

The Conservatives Say

What do the Conservatives say? They say that the Liberal government has not prosecuted the war vigorously enough. They say that the government did not clothe properly some of the soldiers it sent overseas. They say that there has been mis-handling of the war effort, and that the government shut off embarrassing questions, which would have had to be answered, by dissolving parliament so suddenly. They say that the administration did not keep a promise that there would be no general election until after another session of parliament. They say that the war should not be carried on by a party government, but by a national government, and have opened many of their conventions to people of any party.

Reply to Liberals

No doubt other "issues" will appear as the campaign proceeds. On some of the arguments cited, we have no hesitation in commenting. Let us start with the Liberal claim that they have maintained national unity. Actually, Mr. King did not stick to the spirit of his pledge, to leave the war decision to parliament, but gave in to newspaper pressure a week before parliament met, and said that he would ask parliament for authority to prosecute the war. The government made the decision, not parliament. Then the Duplessis government did go down in Quebec, but federal intervention did not prevent 50 per cent of the people from voting for one of the two anti-war parties.

Reply to Conservatives

Now take the Conservative plea for a "national" government. There is really no more reason for a national government in time of war, than in time of depression. Our parliamentary system calls for a party in power, and a party in opposition. The Conservatives seem to be always trying to get away from the name they were born with, instead of enunciating policies which would make the name a force to be contended with. That opinion is subject to change as the campaign progresses, and the Conservatives make a better case for their "national" government. On the arbitrary dismissal of parliament, we believe that the Conservatives were unfairly prevented from performing their proper function as an opposition party, and from bringing out the facts which the public should have had before an election.

A Word to Both

There is the question of a greater war effort. The Liberals say that they are doing everything possible. The Conservatives suggest that they would do even more. Neither party suggests that it would do less, and we may assume that the politicians, with their usual skill, have correctly gauged public opinion on this subject. We will venture to say that $375,000,000 a year (Canada's estimated war expenditures for the first year) is a tremendous sum for one North American country to be spending on an European war in the name of democracy, when another North American country, the greatest democracy in the world, is not spending a cent. We will also commend the present administration and the elders of Canada generally, for not putting pressure on our boys to enlist in the fighting forces at a time when there are a million unemployed in Britain. Canada's human contribution to war should be left on a strictly voluntary basis, with the individual not having his mind made up for him by the crowd.

FARM PROSPERITY

The dominion bureau of statistics gets out a periodical entitled "A Fact A Day About Canada." We happened upon an interesting article on farm family living expenditures. It makes no comparison of farm incomes or expenditures with those of other capitalists, or other laborers. Such comparisons always make one realize that the farmer is on the farm either because he was born there, or because he loves to work with the soil, and with animals, to see things grow; and to live an outdoor life. The bureau of statistics, however, makes no such odious comparisons, but happily shows how far the farmer has risen out of his mid-depression misery.

"How the folk on the farm are getting along is of concern to everyone in Canada, for agriculture is our basic industry. It means food, as well as other things that are necessary for our comfort; indeed, almost for life itself. Our whole social structure is built around the farm in very large measure. The dominion bureau of statistics last year made a survey of farm living expenditures, somewhat similar to the survey of 1934. This makes possible a notion of the relative economic position of families in these two years.

"Farm living expenditures per person averaged approximately 50 per cent higher for families in the 1938 survey than for those in 1934. Provincial differences ranged from increases of 65 per cent and 62 per cent for families in Manitoba and Ontario respectively to 43 per cent for those in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Harvests for 1937 in the last two provinces were poor, but comparatively good in Ontario and Manitoba. Per capita advances in farm living expenditures for households in Quebec and the Maritimes averaged 58 per cent and 51 per cent respectively.

"The foregoing percentage differences represented increased cash outlays per person of $68 for Ontario families, $56 and $50 for Manitoba and Alberta families respectively, $44 and $43 for those in the Maritimes and Saskatchewan, and $34 for families in Quebec. Since average farm living costs advanced less than four per cent between 1934 and 1938, it is evident that these increases point to a material improvement in living levels during this period. The year 1934, of course, was one of unusual stringency for farm families generally.

"Expenditures for the principal items of the family budget contained some noteworthy differences in these two years. The more basic requirements of food and clothing experienced only a slight advance in the amount of actual expenditure per person. In 1934 Ontario farm households spent 28.3 per cent of their total living expenditure on food, while in 1938 the proportion dropped to 18.6 per cent. Corresponding percentages for Manitoba were 25.7 and 19.3.

"Clothing expenses showed a very regular advance in all provinces, with an average increase of $6 per person. In no province was there an advance of less than $5, and in none was it greater than $7. As in the case of foodstuffs, the increase in clothing expenditure was at a much less than proportionate rate, as compared to the rise in total living costs. Clothing expenses for Ontario households in 1934 accounted for 22.2 per cent of total living expenditures, and in the later survey this amount dropped to 16.3 per cent. Families in Saskatchewan and Quebec showed the least declines in the proportions of expenditure on clothing.

"Fuel purchases per person showed very little change during the four-year interval, but in relation to the total living budgets of the families, they registered a noticeable decline. Proportions of expenditure spent for fuel dropped as much as nine per cent for families in Saskatchewan, and as little as two per cent for those in the Maritimes.

"Expenditures for household furniture and furnishings advanced fairly consistently in all provinces. This was observed also to a lesser degree in the case of health care. Proportions of total family expenditure for furnishings registered a slight advance among families in Ontario and Quebec, but were relatively stationary in other provinces. Proportionate amounts spent on health were fractionally lower in most instances, but in no province was the decrease

THE CHUMS SEE MORE FINE FEATHERS

BY RUTH DINGMAN HESS

"I see some big birds right in that little glade where you suggested that we go," said Nuthatch to Merry Chickadee, as they, with several of their chums, continued on their journey of exploration in King township.

"They're grey, with rusty yellow markings on their heads and lower backs," announced Very Young Chips. "And they have big, dark bills."

"Pine Grosbeaks, of course," said Woody Woodpecker. "Listen to them talking together. They have awfully small voices for their size."

By this time the chums were settling down in the same trees in which the Grosbeaks were flying about.

"Excuse me, but I happened to overhear your remark," said one Grosbeak politely to Woody. "I trust that you know that we also have a very nice, clear whistle as well as the small voice that you were commenting on. Just listen to this." He proved his point by giving a loud whistle, which sounded much more suitable.

"I hope I didn't hurt your feelings," said Woody blushing. "Not at all," replied the Grosbeak. "One must face facts in this world, mustn't one? Your comment was quite natural."

"These basswood keys that we are eating are really quite tasty," said another Grosbeak. "Won't you join us," he invited cordially.

"No thank you," said one of the chums. "Most of our crowd really prefer insects and larvae when they are available."

"I don't see any member of your party dressed in the dark red costume of the adult males," said Mrs. Woody.

"No, the five of us that you see here are all either young males or females," explained another of the Grosbeaks. "When you see a larger flock of Grosbeaks, you are apt to see one or two of the beautiful adult males, though."

"Who are those birds that I see over there, eating in the hemlock trees, Pop?" asked Very Young Chips, as he came rushing over to his father. "There are quite a lot of them." "We'll go over and find out," said the older Chickadee.

"Why just look at their funny bills!" exclaimed Very Young Chips loudly as they drew near the other birds.

"Sh-sh, they'll hear you," said Merry.

"They're Crossbills, of course," said Mrs. Woody Woodpecker. "I never fail to be intrigued by the way their long bills cross at the tips when they are closed. You'd wonder how they could ever eat properly."

"And yet, just look at the way they do eat," said Very Young Chips. "They tear the hemlock cones open with their funny bills and then they lick up the seeds with their tongues."

"How pretty they are," said Very Young Chips. "Why I see two or three of the dull red males, too, although most of them have the greenish or yellow markings of the young ones and the ladies."

"I thought Crossbills had white wing bars," said Very Young Chips in a curious voice.

"Some of us have," one of the Crossbills answered him. "Our cousins, the White-winged Crossbills have, as you would expect. Otherwise they are practically the same as we are in looks and actions. Some of them argue that they are more brightly colored and better-looking than we are, but you wouldn't get any of us American Crossbills to admit that."

"Well, you certainly are very beautiful, anyway," said Mrs. Merry Chickadee. "And I think it's delightful to watch the way you folks jump and climb about so gracefully."

"You may see some of our white-winged cousins if you look around here a bit," said one of the birds.

"What family do you belong to?" asked Very Young Chips innocently.

"Sh-sh," murmured Merry hurriedly, hoping that the Crossbills had not heard her son's question.

"Why, the Sparrow family, of course," came the unhesitating reply, "and we're proud of it. The majority of the beautiful winter birds that you see are of our family, too. How I wish some of you other birds—your mother seems to be one, my boy—would get over the feeling that to belong to the Sparrow family is a little bit unfortunate. Why, we include the gorgeous Tanagers and Buntings, the lovely Finches, and the handsome Grosbeaks, as well as all the pretty little birds that are actually called Sparrows."

"It's very good of you to explain things to Very Young Chips," chirped Merry Chickadee brightly. "We're so glad we found you, and we do think you are very interesting people."

"Don't mention it," said several of the Crossbills at once. "And now, if you'll excuse us," one added, "we're going to move a little bit and see if we can't locate a few pine trees. A change of diet is such a fine thing, you know."

"Yes, and we must get home, too," said Ted Chickadee. "This has been quite a day."

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Era: Owing to the fact that a few lectures have been given in your vicinity on the subject of technocracy, many questions have been asked about the subject.

Technocracy does not champion the cause of the poor nor of the rich, of the business man nor of the farmer. It points out that in this machine age the wage envelope is vanishing. On the wage envelope depends the prosperity of the business man, the farmer, the banker, the insurance man and the financier. On all these the government depends for taxes, and the man on relief depends on the government to keep him from starvation. Power is cheap and machinery can be made to do almost anything in these days. Machinery and technology march on side by side. Hand labor continues to disappear and with it disappears our purchasing power. These trends point to an inevitable crash of the price system.

Technocracy does not suggest the confiscation of any man's property nor the taking from anyone to give to anyone else. It points out the dangers of chaos which must result from a breakdown of our financial structure. It invites you to study its carefully prepared plan for distributing the abundance which North America can produce without the price system.

The selection of technocracy champions the building of a new America rather than, after chaos, the reverting to cannibalism, as other broken down civilizations have done.

For example, per person expenditure for this miscellaneous group averaged $22 among Ontario families in 1934 and $43 in 1938. These figures represented a shift from 19.5 per cent of the family budget, to 42.1 per cent."

A HEALTH TIP

Lack of humidity in our homes is a menace to good health, the Orilla Packet and Times points out. The coal or wood stove burning all day long with the boiling kettle humidifying the home, did a great job, and the electrified home should keep or find a substitute for the steaming kettle. Humidity helps to keep the family healthy and the furniture from falling to pieces.

The Common Round

SATURDAY AFTERNOONS

By Isabel Inglis Colville

A great many things lately have made me compare different aspects of the life of the child of today with that of my day—and all comparisons leave me exactly where I started out—no wiser as to which has the better time, or the better chance to achieve good living.

My better half and I, for a variety of reasons, have gone to movieland—when we have read of something which appealed to us—on Saturday afternoons, and we have seen various things besides the pictures, at the various theatres. Being lovers of punctuality, we are always in our places a good ten minutes before the show starts.

The seats being comfortable, we don't mind the wait, and always get a good deal of fun out of the crowd of small people about us.

The theatre seems to be the mecca of all small fry in town and city when Saturday afternoon comes round. As we looked about us, we understood why the MOTHERS were willing to give the children money and see them trot off; they knew that for nearly three hours they would be safe from the menace of half frozen ponds; from the still greater danger of playing on Saturday's traffic-crowded streets, and they would be warm and amused.

The first time we entered a theatre on Saturday afternoon we almost fell back before the barrage of voices—voices small, voices big, voices soft and voices shrill—while a few fights went merrily on, utterly disregarded by anyone but the participants, who emerged none the worse and apparently better friends than ever.

On that first occasion my better half leaned over and "whispered," "I was going to say, but no whisper would have had a chance. Anyways, he said, 'If my mother could see this, she'd probably forget the years between and order me home, for when I was taken in a concert or anywhere else, in my youth, I was informed beforehand that children should be seen and not heard,'" and as I nodded agreement, I remembered the rare occasions when a stock company gave a Saturday afternoon matinee, and my cousins and I were escorted thereto and therefrom by a dragon of a maid, whose look could freeze our innocent transports, if they had ever effervesced.

However, as these things whirled through my head to the accompaniment of a mad tie-die symphony, there would come a sudden uncanny stillness—rather awesome after the noise bedlam—the picture was on!

And now I saw things which definitely pleased me—the response of the children to the story, and we have only seen one picture in our Saturday afternoon travels which we considered utterly unfit for anyone under 18, and at that, we couldn't see either good or pleasure in it and could envision harm.

However, people wiser to children's reactions had passed it, so we'll let it go at that.

I think that children of the present day are more hard-boiled than their elders—they cheered their heroes to the echo, they showered scorn on the villain and laughed at the comedy—but they did NOT weep at the pathos that was pretty evident, and although I indulged in a few tears, the young eyes about me were as bright and dry as diamonds.

Of course, this generation has been brought up on movies and has grown accustomed to the heroic and predicaments, and to pathetic episodes of all kinds. They take them, consequently, in their stride, while in my day even the matinees were melodrama, and being a rare occurrence, they affected us children, yes, and grown up to a nice orgy of weeping; from which we emerged red-eyed, but thoroughly satisfied. In the end, I scored one for the children of today and one for those of yesterday.

The children of today can see their fairy tales take shape before their eyes, in beauty such as we of yesterday's children could not hope to even imagine, and they can give expression to their feelings without feeling they have broken a dozen or more unwritten commandments, but the children of yesterday HAD to use their imaginations—they had to make imagination do what the screen does for the children of today, and because attendance at the theatre was an event, what they saw they FELT and remembered.

Children of 12 today, have seen more drama and entertainment than their parents had at 30—whether this will make for satiety later on, is hard to tell—it does curb imagination—but it will take another generation to show which was better for the children—I think they break even.

POLICE COURT

SAYS HE STOLE HENS

WHEN FAMILY HUNGRY

After pleading guilty to a charge of theft of 16 hens from Alexander Emmerson, Whitchurch township farmer, Newton Simmons and Reuben Clodd, both of Toronto, were each remanded in custody one week for sentence by Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe in police court here on Tuesday.

County Constable Ronald Watt testified that on Feb. 5 he received a call from Constable Robt. Windsor, Whitchurch, saying the hens had been taken from Emmerson's on the eighth of Whitchurch near Vivian. "As a result of the investigation Simmons and Clodd were taken into custody and questioned. After being cautioned both men gave statements at the Toronto jail before Detectives Mace and Vance and myself."

Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews read the statements given by the men. Simmons in his statement said he was 36, married, had four children, one being sick, and that he couldn't get any relief in Toronto and that they had nothing in the house to eat for three days, so he and Clodd took seven or eight hens, which they ate. Clodd's statement said that he and Simmons went up to Vivian in Simmons' car and stole the hens, which they sold. Constable Watt stated that the hens had not been recovered.

Mr. Mathews read a court record against Simmons, dating back to 1923, which included false pretences, theft, bigamy, and relief fraud. A letter was also read by Mr. Mathews offering Simmons a job as a truck driver in Toronto.

The 17-year-old Indian youth from Jackson's Point who last week pleaded guilty to breaking and entering four cottages at Jackson's Point was this week sentenced to the Ontario Reformatory for a definite term of six months and an indeterminate period not to exceed six months on each of the four charges, the sentences to run concurrently. The sentence was dated back to the day of his arrest on Feb. 6.

"I think I would go straight if I had anyone to give me advice, as I haven't a father or mother," the youth stated. "From your record it is evident you have had advice," stated the magistrate. "Weren't you at the Bowmanville training school?"

"Yes," answered the youth. For leaving his car parked on the Yonge St. pavement near the Summit golf club while he was away skiing Raymond Cole, Toronto, was fined $5 and costs. The magistrate reserved judgment on four other similar charges against Toronto motorists after Defence Counsel O'Connor asked for time to submit further evidence about the cars being parked on the travelled portion of Yonge St. Arthur Haight, Toronto, was fined $1 and costs for failing to produce his operator's license and Thomas Wesselt, Toronto, was fined $5 and costs for speeding on Yonge St.

A charge of theft of four cows laid against Wesley Eves, East Gwillimbury township, was adjourned one week for judgment. K. M. R. Stiver was defence counsel.

Carl Reynolds, Cedar Valley farmer, who laid the charge, stated that Eves came to his place around the middle of January and wanted to see his cattle, and that he priced four of them at $200. "I said $200 was the least price I would take for them, so Eves said he wanted to think it over, and went away. Eves returned on Jan. 27 and said he was going to buy the cows, and gave me $10 on account, and said he would pay the balance when he came for the cows."

"The following Wednesday, he returned with his brother-in-law, Gordon Boyd, who has a truck. The two men stayed around my place till noon after we loaded the cows. Then Eves and I heard the truck start up, and Eves said, 'I had better pay you,' so he handed me $35 in bills, and he pulled out a cheque which he said was for $155. I told him I wouldn't accept the cheque as I didn't know his first name. I thought he took the cheque away with him but later I found the cheque on an engine, and it was only made out for $145. I wanted to follow the truck, but it took me a long time to start my car."

"Later the hired man and I drove to Sharon, and we saw Boyd's truck, but the cows were not on it," continued Mr. Reynolds. "I went into the house and Eves was there. I asked Eves about the money, and he said the cheque was good, and that he would give me the other $10. I waited outside for some time, but Eves didn't bring out the money, and then he told me I would have to wait till he sold his pigs, but I refused. He then told me he would bring over the $10 to my place that night, but he has never brought the money. Later when I went over to Eves' place with a constable, he said he would only pay me $5 as I had the 'police on the job.'"

"Then you have received in all $190 for the cows, including the cheque?" asked Mr. Stiver. "Yes," answered Reynolds. "But I have never cashed the cheque."

"Didn't you phone the bank and find the cheque was good?" "Yes."

Ernest Barber stated he worked for Mr. Reynolds, and that he was present when Reynolds and Eves made the bargain about the cattle, and that he also went with Reynolds to see Eves about the rest of the money.

County Constable Ronald Watt stated that he investigated the matter, and that he and Reynolds and Barber went over to see Eves. "I questioned Eves about the deal, and he admitted to me that he was going to pay the $10 to Reynolds, but as the police had been brought into it, he would only pay $5, and that was all he said."

Wesley Eves testified that after they loaded the cows Gordon Boyd was trying to deal a cow with Reynolds, and they spent a lot of time talking. "I paid Reynolds $35 and gave him the cheque for $145, and he stood talking to us at the truck for 15 minutes or so, and when the truck started up, he had one foot on the running board. He looked at the cheque when I gave it to him, and accepted it for $145. When Reynolds came to see me, I said I would pay him the $10 after he got the cows registered, but he wouldn't agree, and went out of the house and said he would sue rather than do that."

Gordon Boyd, truck driver, stated that no money was paid to Reynolds in his presence.

Schomberg

Miss Lucy Fox is a patient in St. Michael's hospital, Toronto, convalescing from a recent major operation. Friends hope she will soon be fully recovered.

Mr. W. L. McGowan was in the city on Thursday of last week.

Mr. E. A. Stuckey made a trip to the city on Thursday of last week.

Mr. D. A. Wauchoppe has been on the sick list. He underwent a slight operation in St. Michael's hospital last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Marchant and daughters, Shirley and Helen, of Weston, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. Marchant.

The Women's Institute met in the club room on Thursday afternoon of last week for the February meeting. Mrs. E. J. Pearson conducted the meeting, with Mrs. C. W. Marchant acting as secretary, due to the illness of the secretary, Mrs. Smith. There was a good turnout of members and also some visitors, with a splendid program arranged by Mrs. A. F. Kay and Mrs. Schouten.

The roll call was answered by giving a favorite sport. Mrs. Kay took the chair for the program, which followed the business session. As an opening number all sang, "Keep the home fires burning," which was followed by current events given by Mrs. McEwen. These were most interesting.

Mrs. H. Kitchen gave a demonstration on how to make a child's bed and also how to change a sick bed. Mrs. Kitchen also read a fine paper on the food value of milk.

Miss Elinor Sawdon sang a solo with her mother as accompanist. Another musical number was given by C. Burns, who gave a fine violin solo and encore.

Mrs. Kay, who is convener of the committee on "Health and Child Welfare," read some very interesting letters loaned her by E. G. Lloyd from a friend in England engaged in the work of caring for convalesces and also giving a first hand idea of present conditions in England, where everyone is carrying on with no complaint.

A contest, won by Mrs. F. Hunter, closed the program, and then God Save the King was sung. The hostesses, Mrs. McGowan and Mrs. B. Skinner, served refreshments.

On Friday afternoon the missionary societies of the three churches met in the Presbyterian church for the World Day of Prayer service. Mrs. R. Davis was in charge, assisted by Mrs. Greenlee and Mrs. V. Marchant. Prayers were taken by members of all societies. Miss M. Burling was at the organ.

The young ladies' Bible class of the United church held a successful Valentine supper in the church basement on Saturday.

The A.Y.P.A. joined with the Kettleby group on Friday night last for a meeting in the Schomberg church.

Dear Sirs:

For some months now, we have included Sweetened Vim Feed in our dairy rations and have had very satisfactory results. It is also included along with grain in our feed to horses and growing colts, we have noticed a big improvement, with all absence of stocking when they came in from hard work in the barn. We highly recommend it to any stock feeder.

Sincerely,

Chas. F. Wood & Sons, per Reg. Wood.

Kellington—In loving memory of our dear daughter, Doris Irene, who passed away Feb. 15, 1939, in her 57th year.
No one knows how much we miss you.
No one knows the bitter pain We have suffered; since we lost you.
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers Sweetly tender, fond and true.
There is not a day, dear daughter, That we do not think of you.
Sadly missed by Father and Mother.

Rahmer—In sad but loving memory of our dear father, Herman Rahmer, who departed this life Feb. 16, 1939.
Although he never said goodbye, Shall always bring regret,
For the hearts that always loved him
Are the hearts that won't forget.

Sadly missed by his loving daughter and son-in-law, Lena and Harold.
Rahmer—In sad but loving memory of my dear husband, Herman Rahmer, who passed away Feb. 16, 1939.
Two years have gone, how swift time flies,
But love's sweet memory never dies.
I miss his help, his cheery ways,
With him I spent my happiest days;
I miss him when I need a friend,
On him I always could depend;
He cheered my life, he soothed my pain,
God grant, some day, we'll meet again;
My thoughts will be Of the dearest husband God gave to me.
Always remembered by his loving wife.

Walker—In fond and loving memory of my dear granddaughter, Jean Marilyn Walker, who died Feb. 14, 1938.
Two years have passed since that sad day,
The one we loved was called away,
God needed one more angel to join His happy band.
So he came and gathered Jeanette to that bright and better land.
Always remembered by her affectionate grandmother, Mrs. John Sheard.

Walker—In loving memory of our darling niece, Jean Marilyn Walker, who died Feb. 14, 1938.
Two years have passed and still we miss you.
Never shall our memories fade,
Loving thoughts will always linger Around the grave where Jean is laid.
Lovingly remembered by Aunt Edith and Uncle Henry.

Walker—In loving memory of our darling daughter, Jean Marilyn Walker, who passed away Feb. 14, 1938.
No stain was on her little heart
Sin had not entered there And innocence kept sweetly on That pale white brow so fair.
She was too pure for this cold earth.
Too beautiful to stay
And so God's holy angel bore
Our darling one away.
Ever remembered by mother and dad.

DAVIS BOYS WIN AGAIN, BUGLERS ARE OUT OF IT

SPECIALTY AND TOWN WILL MEET IN 1ST OF LEAGUE SEMI-FINALS

TANNERS ARE AHEAD

By GEO. HASKETT, Jr.
The mercantile squads were at it again on Tuesday evening at the local arena, Davis Leather taking on the Town puck-chasers in the opening encounter. The tanners emerged with a 4-2 victory, but only after one of the most hectic sessions of the year.

"Sonny" Townsley put the north-enders into the lead at the four-minute mark of the opening period on a smart solo effort. Both teams were playing a wide open variety of hockey and giving the net-minders some anxious moments.

In the second, "Sonny" Townsley put the leather-makers two up, on his second score, unassisted. The towners were really out-lucked in not getting into the scoring column, Doug May twice beating the Davis defence only to have "Mickey" Smith make sensational stops to turn him right back at the door. The town gang held the edge in this period but could not hit their mark.

The Davis squad made it four to nil early in the final go, "Sonny" Townsley taking a pass from "Shorty" Wrightman on the third, and Bohner Groves getting the fourth unassisted. The towners applied the pressure and were finally rewarded, towards the end of the period, with two goals, Mathewson from Boyd accounting for the first, while Neufeldt elicited on a pass from May for the second. This period saw plenty of high sticking and both teams were short-handed quite often.

The second game resulted in a victory for the Office Specialty over the last place R.S.A. Bugle Band, the Specialty squad quite handsomely taking a 6-2 verdict over the band. The buglers, who still had an outside chance of making a play-off berth, saw this disappear before the Specialty onslaught.

The greenshirts took a 2-0 lead in the opening stanza, J. O'Halloran slapping home both scores, with R. Hughes picking up two assists on the play.

In the second, both teams managed to score. C. Welch, on a pass from L. Hawkrigg accounting for the first for the buglers early in the period, with the cabinet-makers making it 3-1 when J. O'Halloran notched his third goal of the game.

The third period saw the office squad ramming in three. E. O'Halloran, Ken Woodcock and Russ. Hughes being the marksmen, while the best the buglers could reply with was a pretty combination effort, between Brown and Doble, with Doble chalking up the score when he fired it past Kaus, the Specialty net-minder.

This game was not so hectic as the opener, but both clubs at times turned on some very pretty passing plays.

the fact to the township clerk, John Crawford, Vardorf. The municipality is anxious to compile a record of every soldier enlisting from the municipality.

At the close of the last war, this was done, when some sort of recognition was made to these veterans, and it was a difficult task to obtain all the names. It is believed that if all would record their names, regiment number, and the unit they enlist under, promptly, a ready record could be compiled for future use.

Residents of the township are asked to bear this announcement in mind, and see to it that the township clerk is notified of every enlistment from their locality.

Dear Friends:
A housekeeper's first duty towards fabrics is to keep them dusted. Though weaves collect dust easily and will deteriorate if not cleaned often. Velvet and corduroy should be brushed in the direction of the pile. Moth-proofed products afford temporary relief against moths but to be absolutely sure spray a moth solution from time to time and brush frequently. Very few stains and spots require the same treatment. Water rings and stains can often be removed by rubbing with a wet cloth. Fruit stains and ice cream stains should be allowed to dry, then rubbed with a clean cloth and carbon tetrachloride. Chocolate and candy can be removed by rubbing with a warm, damp cloth and brushed with carbon tetrachloride. Ink stains require a standard ink remover. In general, a good napha should be used to remove all dirt.

Midland Defeated 5-1 In Clean-fought Game

BRENNAN, LOCAL STAR,

SCORE UPSET

Sparked by "Pepper" Martin and with Joe Tunney playing steady hockey in the nets, Aurora Tigers scored a nice 5-1 win over the luckless Midland team, league tail-enders, last Friday evening in Aurora. While not yet back to their early season form, the Tigers, who have been in a slump the past two weeks, gave signs of rejuvenation and a continued performance will bring them back to par, which means as good as any other team in the league.

Midland got the only goal of a drab first period when "Chopsticks" Cassidy pushed the puck past Johnston and coasted in on Tunney's cage to score a well-timed goal. Several times Hepworth, Midland's new goalie, saved brilliantly.

In the second period Michaniuk evened the count at 15.30, on a backhand, while 30 seconds later "Pete" Donkin took Cummings' pass close in to give the Tigers a lead from which they were never headed.

Midland and Aurora both battled hard in the third period and both goal-minders made lovely saves. Brennan was banished and it looked as if Midland might tie the score but strong defensive work saved the day. Then, with the teams at full strength, "Pepper" Martin got the pay-off goal on a nice angle shot, after he had rushed deep into the northerners' territory.

Forty seconds later, Cummings passed out to Donkin, who was camped in front of the nets and the fast flying winger made no mistake. With Brennan serving

MUST "WIN THE PEACE" IN THIS WAR, REV. JOHN COBURN TELLS CONGREGATION

Choosing as the subject of his sermon, "The place of the church in times of war," Rev. John Coburn of Toronto took the evening service at Aurora United church last Sunday.

"We are today passing up our own wrong-doings and short-comings and concentrating on those of Hitler," he said. "It is not sufficient to merely be critical of others. We have the liquor problem rampant throughout Canada and yet we are doing little to curtail or prohibit its sale now.

"We all remember the last war, and the liquor interests are responsible for great economic waste during a period when we must conserve all our resources. Our biggest problem will come with peace. This time we must see that we win the peace. Last time we won the war but lost the peace."

ENGLAND EXPECTS MORE HELP, W. A. IS TOLD

The Women's association of Aurora United church held its regular monthly meeting last Thursday. Mrs. E. J. Thompson had charge of the devotional period, while Mrs. R. J. Neilly gave a report of the centre presbytery meeting held the previous week in Eglinton United church, Toronto, at which she was a delegate. There were over 40 members present.

The special speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. R. S. Tanner, of Toronto, of the League of Nations society, who spoke on the subject "Education for lasting peace." Outlining the work and the objectives of the society, Mrs. Tanner pointed out that the abolition of race, creed and color hatreds was the only way in which permanent peace could be secured, along with economic readjustments.

"After the last war we failed to lay the foundations for lasting peace. We must see that this time we do not fail. It is, remember, more difficult to prepare for peace than it is for war. Our society tried for peace but found it difficult to get women to spare a half-day a month for peace propaganda and education.

"Today, these same people are able to find five or six days a month for war work. We must win the war, and the war efforts must come first now and their efforts are commendable, but if we could have the same intensive energy expended throughout peacetimes, we would be surprised at the results."

Mrs. Tanner told of the refugee problem, and of the 9,000 European refugees in England. Canada, to date, has absorbed only about 100 and England, she felt, expected Canada to do something about the situation, as their presence increased the economic problem and made overcrowding, whereas we had plenty of room for them here.

"This is a problem we should deal with immediately, we should ease the motherland of this burden."

PREACHES IN ARMY FATHER'S PULPIT

WOMEN'S GUILD ELECTS OFFICERS FOR 1940

The co-operative women's guild held a Valentine box social at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Harrison on Monday of last week with 38 persons present. Chief business of the evening was the election of officers which resulted as follows: hon. pres, Mrs. C. Bilborough; president, Mrs. R. Boyd; 1st vice-pres, Mrs. D. McDonald; 2nd, Mrs. J. Stuart; treasurer, Mrs. Robt. Hodgkinson; secretary, Mrs. Gordon Baldwin; ass't. sec., Mrs. W. Thompson; visiting committee, Mrs. H. Richards and Mrs. A. Hazen.

Miss Edith Richards sang two very pleasing songs, after which Mrs. T. C. McDonald presented the retiring president, Mrs. C. Bilborough, with a silver cake plate.

Mrs. John Stuart read an expression of appreciation for the faithful and efficient service rendered by Mrs. Bilborough.

A. J. G. Wilson, a guest of the evening, spoke briefly on the subject of "The Consumers' Union," an organization whose purpose is to give consumers accurate information as to the comparative ratings of manufactured goods and aims to protect him from fraudulent and misleading advertisements.

Frank Griffith, on behalf of the board of directors of the co-operative, extended an invitation to all to attend a special directors' meeting to be held Friday night at 8 p.m.

Mrs. John Stuart won the prize for guessing the identity of the most streets in Aurora while partners for the box lunch were decided by drawing names from a hat. The national anthem brought the meeting to a close.

DOWN THE CENTRE

PRESS-BOX RAMBLINGS:

Mervin Watt, former Aurora boy, and now resident of Stouffville, skipped the Stouffville curling rink which went trophy to the finals of the Burden trophy at the recent Ontario tankard. Stouffville lost out to Hamilton Victorias after a red hot struggle. Jack Coulson, laid of Gaitlands, and popular young sportsman of the district, is now in training for active service. Coulson was one of Canada's most outstanding scullers, competing on several occasions for the famous diamond shells. Last year he gave up the singles shell and rowed with the famous Argonaut eight, which lost out in the finals at Henley. Last winter he played hockey with the White Rose team in the bush league for exercise and good fellowship.

Jack Culverwell is one reason why Sutton greenshirts are back to the form that almost took them to an intermediate title three years ago. Culverwell was lost to them the following year, being transferred to England by his employer.

While across the pond he still played hockey and so, transferred back to Canada as a result of the war, he does not jump back into the game cold. Along with his team-mate, Harry Milroy, he also performs for Donnell and Mudge in the west Toronto mercantile.

Herb Burchall, who was a star on the same Sutton team as Culverwell, has also returned to the team this season. Herb is now located at Willowdale, where he is a school teacher. Charlie Rowntree is just about the busiest man in North York this week.

With the assumption of the Aurora coaching duties, he has four games scheduled, and to date between the two teams has held six practices, all this in addition to his regular duties. Bagny and Lawrie of Markham Juniors are now playing for Post Office in the Major commercial, all of which seems a little foolish at this stage of the game if the Aces are to be group winners.

The blood and thunder leagues are tough going, and in practically every case have slowed down or perhaps moved down junior players.

Herb, Culin came within three points of his highest scoring record in the N.H.L. on Tuesday night when he banged away for four points, to give him a total of 27 points, and with ten games to go he should have no difficulty picking up four points to top his all-time high figure of 30, made two years in a row with Maroons. Six years in the big league finds the Newmarket boy at this stage with a life-time total of 168 points.

Bobby Duddy, coach of Midland Juniors, group tail-enders, who now revert to C rating for the play-offs, asked our candid opinion on how his team compared with Aurora's champions of last year.

We told him frankly that last year's edition looked better, but we thought his team to be good enough to go a long way if he can get them working a wee bit smoother. Weakness in the nets may cost them their chances, as when another team gets a goal or two lead they begin to fade, all of which makes them look like front runners.

Ernie Wortley turned up at Barrie to referee in place of Bernie Brophy. Ernie was unpopular with the fans and officials from the start. Barrie's manager did not want Wortley and Aurora officials were not too highly pleased when they saw him on the ice. He has slowed up considerably this year and does not follow closely on the play. Seventeen-fifty is what it costs the Barrie club for a Toronto referee and we don't blame them for hollering when there are two capable officials residing right in Barrie in Red Farrell and Jack Dobson.

"Pepper" Martin really handed out two body checks in Barrie that brought back memories of "Dooley" Butler crashing them over in the old trolley loop. Martin is clean about it all, his rugby training standing him in good stead and one or two good checks has a most deterring effect on swarming forwards. The crowd loves to see the boys bounce, and brush off the ice surface with their pants.

Jimmy Lowe played swell hockey in Barrie but he's still marring his work by hanging on to the puck too much and not passing the puck. There is no forward in the group who could be more effective than Jim if he would only pass the puck. At that he's up near the top in assists given for goals, which indicates he does plenty of puck-handling.

The Barrie Clock, with no second hand on it, leaves one uncomfortable and always with the suspicion that in the dying moments of the game 60 seconds do not make a minute in the Simcoe centre. We don't say this is so, but it's a possibility, and there should be no such thing as possibility when the question of time may mean much to either team. A second hand on the clock would clear up the whole situation.

Barrie fans thought Aurora just as good as the Owen Sound Greys who took a 4-2 win on the same ice a week previous. They're underestimating their own team this year, however, perhaps because they've become jaded to top-notch aggregations throughout the years.

We think the Colts will give the Greys a real battle for honors when they meet again, and with a boy like Art Consaul in goal, anything can happen. Not since the days when "Dinty" Moore was in the nets has Barrie had a better goalie.

Friday's game will definitely decide second place in the group standing, the Greys playing a single schedule with all except Kingsway, are definitely slated for first place, but providing all other games run in form, Barrie can step into second place with a win here.

How are rooters in North York to have adopted the slogan "Two titles or bust." Come on Redmen! Come on Tigers!

Rowntree Will Take Over Tigers For Rest Of Season

COACH PRINGLE RESIGNS AS OTHER ACTIVITIES ARE EXTENSIVE

On Saturday, Ellis Pringle of Bradford, coach of Aurora Tigers in the Junior B O.H.A. series, tendered his resignation to take effect forthwith to the hockey president, H. J. Morton.

Mr. Pringle, who is manager of the Bradford arena and also looks after the coaching for Bradford and Schomberg, in the O.R.I.A., found the Aurora coaching job incompatible with his other duties and other business interests he is assuming. "There is the friendliest feeling between Mr. Pringle and our committee and we appreciate his position," Mr. Morton told The Era. "Mr. Pringle proved himself a perfect gentleman and he is a fine sportsman. We wish him every success in the future."

Coupled with the announcement of Mr. Pringle's resignation came the news that Charlie Rowntree, coach of the Aurora team the past four years and now handling the destinies of the Newmarket Redmen, has been secured to take over the team for the rest of the season. Mr. Rowntree, it is understood, will have a free hand to deal with the team as he sees fit and as Mr. Rowntree has seen most of the Aurora games, he is in a position to deal with the situation in a competent manner.

Local followers of the team have, in no uncertain terms, expressed themselves as highly satisfied with the move made by the hockey executive in securing Mr. Rowntree. Mr. Rowntree will be greeted on all sides with applause as he makes his first appearance locally this season with the team on Friday against Barrie colts.

'TECHNOCRAT' EXPECTS BAD SLUMP IN 1945

"Prosperity is here now, because prosperity is measured by the amount of economic goods produced, and we are now at a peak equal to that of 1929."

"A major depression by 1945, from which we may never recover, is to be expected." These, along with other startling declarations were made by Charles Norris, regional director of Technocracy Inc., at a meeting held in the town hall, last week.

About 40 persons attended the meeting. The theory and facts presented went over fairly well with the audience, but how to put the program into reality was the stickler with most. The ultimate aim of security and retirement at 45 after a 4-hour, 4-day working week for 20 years, which entitled one to such retirement and such security was explained.

"Politics tells you how smart you are, technocracy starts by telling you how dumb you are," said Mr. Norris. "There is no room for politics or politicians in technocracy."

Interesting economic theory was presented, showing that the North American continent, which is to be the first technocracy heaven, possessed eight per cent of the world's population, and 60 per cent of the machinery, and highly skilled workers were used as the basis of abundance for everyone.

A.H.S. BASKET SQUAD IS LEADING IN LEAGUE

Flashing a determined passing attack, Coach Norman Johnson's high school basketball squads scored their second straight wins of the season by defeating Richmond Hill high school 22-3 in the junior series, and 15-6 in the senior division, last Thursday.

The senior win was particularly sweet to take as last year the Hillers took the group title by one point from the Aurora boys. The week previous the Aurora teams defeated both Pickering College squads and as a result are now out in front of the league.

The junior game was an easy Aurora win, with Jennings and Rawlings and P. Hughey being outstanding for the locals. Joe Cherry was best for the southern school. Aurora (22): guards, P. Hughey, Thompson; centre, Rawlings; forwards, Jennings and Davis; spares, Hillis, Stevenson, Griffith and Sawchuk; R. H. S. guards, Cook and Cosgrove; centre, Edmunds; forwards, Cherry and Taylor; spares, Burrie, Thompson, Stewart, Gooding.

The senior battle was bitterly fought, the half-time score being 9-5 for Aurora. The second half saw Richmond Hill miss baskets time after time as they pressed hard, while Aurora were deadly when they had the openings. Kerr, Walker and Pugsley were Aurora stars. Morris and Mashinter were the visitors' standouts.

Kyle and Morris were both benched in the final quarter as the result of four personals.

Aurora: guards, Kerr and Wilcox; centre, Lloyd; forwards, Sheridan and J. Hughey; spares, Pugsley, Walker, Armstrong, Kyle, P. Hughey.

R. H. S. guards, M. Stewart and Morris; centre, Brockbank; forwards, Hayworth and Graham; spares, Mashinter and Stephens.

Referees: Mather and Brown (Pickering College).

"PARTIES" ON PARTY LINES WILL BE LESS

Telephone lines in and around Aurora are now being reconstructed and extended, according to Harold McClelland, manager of The Bell Telephone Company of Canada in Newmarket and vicinity.

"In Aurora itself, a large main cable is being erected on Spruce St., to serve the northern section of the town and also the area to the north bordering Yonge St., Mr. McClelland said. "Duplicate lines of poles are being eliminated by placing telephone cables on power poles, and some lines are being removed and replaced with new lines in the rear of property, thus consolidating the distribution of lines to subscribers' premises and removing poles and wires from the streets."

"Rural lines west of Aurora are being replaced by nearly four miles of cable on a new line of cross-wood poles. The remaining lines in the rural area are being reconstructed, poles straightened or replaced and wires drawn taut. New facilities thus provided will reduce the number of subscribers on certain rural party lines."

"The work is being carried out under the direction of C. W. Holmes, Newmarket."

Tigers Get Revenge By Defeating Barrie Colts 4-3

TIGERS ARE IN TOP FORM
IN THRILLING GAME
WITH BARRIE

Flashing a brand of hockey that could not be denied, despite supersensational goal tending by diminutive Art Consaul, Aurora Tigers got sweet revenge, and brought joy to the hearts of their many loyal supporters and Coach Charlie Rowntree, as they defeated Barrie Colts 4-3 in the Simcoe county town on Monday evening.

Rowntree was making his initial start of the season as the Aurora coach and his charges responded nobly to his fine handling and judgment, as he more than matched wits with Tommy Thompson's subtle maneuvering of his speedy Colts.

From the time referee Ernie Wortley dropped the opening puck, both teams kept up a pace that had the crowd in a constant uproar. Play was even until Brennan drew a penalty, and Barrie put on a power play which resulted in Paquette driving one to the upper left hand corner from the blue line, with a perfect shot which had McGhee beaten all the way.

Thirty seconds later Jimmy Lowe stickhandled his way through the whole Barrie team, to tie the score a few seconds after his teammate, Pepper Martin, had just failed to get the equalizer on a brilliant play.

At 9:05 Michaniuk carried the puck in and relayed to Jimmy Cummings, who came from the side to beat Consaul easily. To the end of the period Aurora maintained a prolonged attack which only Consaul stopped.

In the second period, at 3:05, Lowe got his second goal as he took a lovely pass from Joint McComb and made no mistake. Brennan received another penalty and Barrie made McGhee hustle, but short handed as they were, the Tigers clicked for another counter, McComb getting a passout from Harry Pearce, and just flicking it past Consaul at 7:15.

Both custodians were tried in turn to the end of the period, and made brilliant saves.

The last stanza saw Barrie set a withering pace which Aurora matched. A slip-up on the left boards allowed Bowen to coast in on McGhee for a nice goal, at 3:58.

Martin made a brilliant rush, and had Consaul at his mercy, but unselfishly passed over to Pearce who just failed to click.

McComb, seconds later, was outguessed by little Arlie. In a scramble around the Aurora nets, with practically every player taking a swipe at a rolling puck, the rubber finally wound up behind McGhee. No one knew who had scored, but Jennett and Chomysyn finally got the award for the Barrie goal. Down only one goal, the Colts tried hard but could not beat McGhee or a determined Aurora defensive effort. As the bell went Martin scored for Aurora but the goal did not count.

For the locals every boy gave his best, Brennan being the only player to visit the housegoal. McGhee was in good form all night. Martin and Curtis were the best defensively, while on the attack Lowe and McComb and Captain Jimmy Cummings slightly shaded their fellows.

The whole front line performed in an unselfish passing attack, which looked like the form of three weeks ago.

Consaul and Bowen were the Barrie stars. Consaul saved the Colts, as he has done all season, from a worse beating, while Bowen never gave up trying as he rallied his mates for fresh attacks.

Aurora: goal, McGhee; defence, Brennan and Curtis; centre, Cummings; wings, Donkin and Michaniuk; alternates, Lowe, Pearce, McComb, Martin, Scott and Tunney.

Barrie: goal, Consaul; defence, Reynolds and Paquette; centre, Chomysyn; wings, Dixon and Bowen; alternates, Jennett, L. Goring, C. Goring, Lindsay, Saunders, Bird.

Referee: Ernie Wortley.

First Period
Barrie, Paquette (Dixon), 6:15; Aurora, Lowe, 6:45; Aurora, Cummings (Michaniuk), 9:05.

Penalties, Brennan and Paquette.

Second Period
Aurora, Lowe (McComb), 3:05; Aurora, McComb (Pearce), 7:15. Penalty, Brennan.

Third Period
Barrie, Bowen, 3:58; Barrie, Jennett (Chomysyn), 15:40. Penalties, Brennan and Bowen.

W. E. BARKER OF KING NAMED LODGE HEAD, MAJOR W. H. TAYLOR ENTERS 39TH TERM

The county Orange Lodge of North York held its annual meeting in Aurora on Saturday and W. E. Barker of King was elected county master. Major W. H. Taylor, veteran Orange stalwart, was re-elected secretary for the 39th consecutive term.

Special speaker of the afternoon was Rt. Wor. Bro. Cecil Armstrong of Toronto, grandmaster of Ontario west. He was greeted with grand lodge honors, and in his address outlined the work being carried on by the order.

"As in the last war, Orangemen are again rallying to the colors in no uncertain manner, and we are proud of it," Mr. Armstrong said. He stressed the importance of being alert and active on the separate school question, and urged his listeners to play their part in the glorious 12th.

The meeting decided to celebrate the 12th of July at Islington, which means all lodges in the jurisdiction will be at that centre on "the glorious 12th."

The young people of Wesley and Mount Pisgah United churches are holding a skating party at Aurora arena on Tuesday evening, which a large number of the Aurora young people's union of Aurora United church have been invited to attend.

Chief Sloss Makes Report

Transportation
The ruling in regard to transporting prisoners is that all prisoners, before conviction is registered, must be transported by officers in whose municipality the arrest was made. Therefore, as my car is the only means of transportation for this department, reimbursement is made by a weekly allowance as well as county of York rate at 6c per mile for all trips made other than in the municipality itself. For your information I must also say that the weekly cost to operate my car, apart from depreciation, has never been less than $5 for current expenses, as it is being used for patrolling the town, escorting funerals and parades, answering calls or investigating complaints as well as being used by Constable Mount for special work on night duty. During the past year a number of important arrests have been made and on nearly every occasion the car has been responsible or made possible the apprehension of these persons. However, there is one matter that should be given your consideration when possible and that is the granting of a car allowance for the night patrol, thus giving the entire town 24-hour police protection. This is merely a suggestion on my part, for I feel that, although I am on call 24 hours a day and answer many night calls, advantage is being taken owing to the fact that police protection is being limited at night to the Main street. Constable Mount, however, should be complimented on the manner in which he has patrolled his beat, not permitting one break-in during the time for which this report refers.

Communication
The most direct and complete means of communication as we all know is by radio, but until some agreement is made either with the province or the city of Toronto whereby a more powerful transmitter is put into operation, Newmarket will never enjoy the benefits derived from this source. Some time ago York County tested out a car radio receiving set, tuned in on the frequency of the city of Toronto broadcasting station CJO, but was unable to obtain a satisfactory reception for more than a fifteen mile radius north of that city, hence the idea of supplying York county police cars with radios was, for the present, abandoned. Commenting on the present system here in Newmarket, I would like to draw your attention to the fact that it is very difficult to keep an accurate check on all calls placed through the phone, especially on court days when I have to leave Tuesday. Therefore, I suggest that the Bell Telephone Co. be consulted regarding the installation of a pay telephone in the station to be used for all long distance calls, thus eliminating all responsibility or misunderstanding concerning the telephone bills received.

Equipment
At the present time, the Town of Newmarket owns as police equipment, one Smith & Wesson 38 calibre revolver, two sets of police handcuffs, one stop watch, one sledge and three sam brown belts, and for your information I might say that I am carrying a 38 calibre Colt revolver which I purchased personally when first employed as a police officer for this town. In order that our equipment might be more complete, I would like to suggest that the town, when possible, purchase a brake-testing machine. Citizens come daily for a brake test, but owing to the lack of this piece of equipment, we are compelled to refuse them or refer them to York County, police. Therefore, since the use of such a machine has done so much in eliminating the hazards of motoring, I feel that it would be money well spent and hence the town reimbursed in the form of accident prevention.

Files
As I have already mentioned, no records of police occurrences were kept in the past. Therefore, it has been impossible for me to give you any comparison of present conditions with those prior to my appointment. As a result, I have set up a card and index system whereby each individual complaint and investigation may be found with the least difficulty. Accidents and their investigations have been classed separately whereby complete details may be had for future references. A complete record in detail is being kept of all prisoners lodged in Newmarket cells as well as a record of all confiscated goods for which this department is entirely responsible. All expenditure pertaining to the general upkeep of the Newmarket police station will also be itemized and filed, from which an estimate or report may be prepared at any time.

Health
During the time for which this report refers, approximately two days were lost through ill health

CHIEF JAMES SLOSS

ceived that a man was seen plucking turkeys in a bush at Holland Landing. Through the license number of the car involved, the whereabouts of the responsible person was established and later the arrest made by Constable Fleury, to whom the information was given by this department. The person losing the turkeys was also learned by this department and on November 29, 1939, the person was sentenced in the Newmarket court to three months imprisonment for the theft.

(13) Since the declaring of the present war, Newmarket police have been responsible for the apprehension of two enemy aliens wanted by the C.M. Police for violation of National Defence regulations.

Although Newmarket police have never made a practice of answering out of town calls and only act in cases of emergency, I think that you will agree when I say that the above mentioned occurrences were only a means of extending the same co-operation which is expected from police officers of outside municipalities.

H.T.A. and Town By-Law Enforcement

During the period for which this report refers there were 151 convictions registered by the presiding magistrate of the Newmarket court as a result of charges laid by Newmarket officers under various sections of the above headings. One hundred and twenty-two of these were for speeding in various parts of the town.

In reference to criticism concerning the Newmarket officers summoning speeders to court, I might draw attention to the position of the measured distance on Eagle Street. Originally this measured distance was marked from the westerly town limits to the Red Indian service station but considering this unfair to the motorist, I immediately set up a quarter mile from Lorne Ave. to a point about 100 yards east of Ellen St. Therefore, when it is taken into consideration that no motorist has been summoned under 45 m.p.h., I feel that very little, if any, criticism should be forthcoming.

Summary: speeding convictions, 122; speeding dismissed, 10; speeding withdrawn 6; others 32.

Reckless, Dangerous and Drunk Driving

On Oct. 14, 1939, about 11 p.m., I investigated an accident on Huron St. west, where a car had been driven for a considerable distance on the wrong side of the road, knocked down about 60 feet of guard rail and finally came to rest upside down in the south ditch. As a result charges of reckless and drunk driving were laid and the accused convicted, paying $15 and costs as well as five days in jail and license suspended. On one other occasion I was called to East Gwillimbury to investigate an accident where two cars had sideswiped. A charge of reckless driving was laid and the accused paid $10 and costs.

On July 1 last, a man pleaded guilty to all three charges of reckless driving, drunk driving and falling to remain at the scene of an accident. For this he was sentenced to 14 days in jail.

Summary: drunk driving convictions 1; drunk driving withdrawn 1; reckless driving convictions 3; falling to remain convictions 3; dangerous convictions, 2.

Manslaughter

About 10:05 p.m. on Jan. 10, 1939, I received a call concerning an accident on the Main St. Newmarket, in front of the Bra printing office. Arriving at the scene of the accident, we found that a 1938 Hudson sedan, stolen in Toronto, had crashed the entrance of the printing office, fatally injuring a Newmarket citizen. The driver of the car had disappeared but later (three youths) were picked up at the intersection of Eagle and Yonge St. and were eventually convicted on both counts (theft of car and manslaughter) at the Supreme Court of Ontario in Toronto. One youth received eighteen months while the other two were sentenced to fourteen months, the charges running concurrently.

On Aug. 25 last, Constable Mount was called to the scene of an accident on Main St. where an automobile driven by a Newmarket girl, mounted the sidewalk and fatally injured an aged resident of this municipality. In this case the driver was charged with manslaughter, but dismissed in the Newmarket court.

Summary: convictions 3; dismissed 1.

Accidents

Eighty accidents, involving motor vehicles, were reported to this office, 85 per cent of which took place on the Main St. The estimated damage, although in the majority of cases damage was slight, would reach $2,000.

Summary: accidents 80.

L.C.A. Enforcement

As the result of 10 liquor raids being conducted in Newmarket, I feel that although a small percentage of convictions for selling were registered that the results of keeping the bootlegging situation under control have been very noticeable and I might also report that ten families have been placed on the interdicted list, whereby their liquor privileges have been cancelled or cancelled. Apart from the above matter, although we have made a practice of giving offenders a first chance, six convictions for consuming have been registered.

Summary: consuming convictions 6; illegal possession 2; illegal dismissed 2; permitting drunkenness 1.

Excise Act Enforcement

Under the above mentioned act, three convictions have been registered and fines paid in each case.

Summary: convictions 3.

Assaults

In almost every case where a charge of assault has been laid, you will find that it is the result of domestic trouble. Hence, two such charges were laid and two persons sentenced to ten and six days, respectively. On one occasion, four youths from Toronto assaulted a Newmarket citizen and as a result paid fines for that offence.

Vagrancy

Although we receive numerous complaints concerning transients commonly known as vagrants, only five charges were laid under this section of the Criminal Code. In one case a man was sentenced to seven days in jail while another person was bound over by the sum of $400 to keep the peace. The other three charges were withdrawn and more serious charges laid.

In view of the present cell accommodation, I would like to draw attention to the inconvenience of lodging transients for the night. On several occasions, prisoners have been brought to the station and we were forced to move these men from the cells to the waiting room. During this past fall and winter we have already given 24 transients a night's lodging.

Summary: convictions 3; withdrawn 3; complaints (1939) 35.

Breaking and Entering

On Oct. 25, 1939, about 11 p.m., we received a call that the Choplin service station was being entered. We arrived at the service station in time to see three youths running from the rear of the building and after a chase of several blocks which led through gardens and over fences, one youth was taken into custody and the other two were taken to the station. The youths gave city of Toronto addresses and were later convicted on the above mentioned charge, the sentence for which being six months in the reformatory for one while the other two received three months each. Thirteen other break-ins, including gasoline pumps, occurred during the time to which this report refers. Three of these break-ins were at private dwellings where sums of money were taken by a juvenile who was later convicted and placed on two years probation.

On Dec. 7 last, the Red Indian service station was entered and approximately $75 worth of tobacco stolen. Later the same day, three Orillia youths were arrested by the police of that municipality and admitted a series of thefts and break-ins, including that of the service station. During the course of Constable Mount's investigation, he found a broken fountain pen which proved to be the only evidence in clearing up a break-in at Barrie. For this series of offences the youths were convicted in the Magistrate's court, at Barrie, two received one year definite, and one year indeterminate, while the third lad was sentenced to six months definite and three months indeterminate.

Summary: Total 13.

Thefts

One of the most difficult situations that any police force has to cope with is that of petty thieving and this statement can very well be verified by the figures shown in police reports of various municipalities as the percentage of goods recovered from such thefts is undoubtedly very small. During the year, goods and money estimated at $555 were reported stolen to this department and since $350 of this amount has been recovered, I consider that very fortunate in this respect as compared to many municipalities.

Theft of Automobiles

Newmarket might also boast of the fact that only one car was stolen during the past two years. On this occasion the car was recovered, not by the police but by a relative of the car owner, who went north calling on garage until rewarded for his efforts when he found the wanted car in a small garage south of North Bay. Although the Newmarket police did not altogether solve the crime, I might say that we have sufficient reason to believe that the person responsible is now serving a two and a half year term in jail for bigamy.

Summary: car thefts 1, joy riding 1 (rec.).

Bicycles

During the past two years, six bicycles were reported stolen to this department and from this number four have been recovered and returned to their respective owners.

Summary: stolen 6, recovered 4.

Criminal Knowledge

On July 15, 1939, a complaint was received implicating a seven-year-old girl.

After investigation, a charge of criminal knowledge was laid and the man responsible for the offence mentally examined. On examination this man was declared mentally deficient and committed to a mental hospital.

Firearms

On March 6 last, a Newmarket

This is the report of Chief Constable James Sloss of Newmarket and is well worth study by all citizens interested in the welfare of the community.

lad was reported missing to this department by his brother who stated that he had disappeared the previous night after stealing his father's revolver and a quantity of ammunition. The following evening, March 7, the lad was arrested as he attempted to leave the Strand theatre, Newmarket, later charged with carrying a loaded revolver, convicted and placed on probation for one year.

Summary: convictions 1, revolver confiscated 3.

Revolver and Pistol Registration

Under section 121A of the Criminal Code a re-registration of all revolvers and pistols between the dates of March 1, 1939, and July 1, 1939, was compulsory. As a result 97 such weapons have been re-registered at this office.

Summary: re-registration 97.

Missing Persons

On several occasions this department has been called to assist in locating missing persons and have on 25 different occasions been able to obtain the required information and established the whereabouts of the persons in question.

Summary: located persons 25.

Minor Complaints, Enquiries and Investigations

Twelve hundred and thirty-one complaints and enquiries were investigated and disposed of to the satisfaction of all concerned. The above mentioned were composed of such complaints as domestic trouble, vicious and stray dogs, children causing disturbance, breaches of town by-laws, checking strange cars, cars with improper lighting, as well as road conditions to be referred to D. Crowder, etc.

Summary: complaints and enquiries 1,231.

Special Duty

In addition to the previously mentioned occurrences this department is always represented at fairs, dances, parades, memorial services, hockey and baseball games, concerts and escorts, etc.

Summary: baseball games 20, band concerts 2, carnivals 2, dances 5, funeral escorts 24, fires 8, fights 2, hockey matches 3, markets (traffic) 2, payroll escort 20, parades 5, racing meets 2.

Service of Summons

In the past, the practice exercised in the serving of summonses was for all officers to be paid a service charge as well as county of York rate for mileage at 6c per mile. This applied to all outside municipalities with the exception of the county of York who served Newmarket summonses free of charge.

Considering this system unfair, arrangements were made whereby all city of Toronto summonses were to be served without charge and in return city police serve all Newmarket summonses likewise, thus eliminating the serving of Newmarket summonses by county of York officers. Outside municipalities in the county of York have also adopted this reciprocal system which has proven very satisfactory.

During the year 1939, the number of summonses served, including those of outside municipalities, amounted to 141.

Summary: summonses served 141.

Prisoners

Since the official opening of the Newmarket police station on July 12, 1938, there have been 212 prisoners lodged in the cells and during the year 1939 arrangements were made whereby the town of Newmarket was reimbursed by county of York at the rate of $1 per day for all prisoners other than those arrested by this department. Meals were supplied to prisoners while being detained at a cost of 25c per meal.

Summary: prisoners 212.

Magistrate's Court

From July 1, 1938, to Dec. 31, 1939, 2,162 cases were disposed of through the Magistrate's court in Newmarket. From July 1, 1938, to Dec. 31, 1939, 821 cases were disposed of as compared to 880 cases during the same period of this year. The figures concerning the cases presented by the police officers of every municipality in this northern section of the county of York, as well as the large number of cases brought in by traffic officers of the Ontario provincial police on No. 11 highway.

Although considerable criticism has been directed at the practice of keeping the Newmarket Magistrate's court, I can assure that every officer connected with the court will agree that it is a wonderful convenience and conducted in a manner equal to that of any court of its kind in the ### Province of Ontario.

Owing to the comparatively small amount of revenue to the town of Newmarket by the way of fines imposed on charges laid by Newmarket officers, I feel that this alone should be sufficient to convince the opposition that the court is not a source of revenue but was merely established as a convenience and saver of time to the municipalities of the surrounding district.

Summary: revenue $530.07.

Recommendations

(1) Police Qualifications
Although the personnel of the Newmarket police force is very small as compared to that of larger centres, I nevertheless feel that a standard should be adopted in regards to the qualifications of future appointments. In the past, numerous applications have been received which would never warrant consideration. Therefore, if such a standard was adopted, it would thus eliminate such applications and hence embarrassment to those concerned. For these qualifications I would like to suggest that no man be appointed unless he had the equivalent of two years in high school, five feet 11 inches in height or over, weight not less than 175 lbs., not over the age of 30 years and with good reference as to character and habits.

(2) Scale of Wages
So often jealousy and dissatisfaction arises among fellow workers over difference in wages paid, but although this most certainly is not the case in Newmarket with regards to the police force, I nevertheless feel that if a scale of wages, according to ability as well as experience, were set up, it would do a great deal in retaining harmony and a clear understanding among the officers of this department.

(3) Parking Facilities
As we all know, parking facilities in Newmarket are at a premium, and until this is overcome, we can never expect to properly eliminate the traffic hazard which exists on our Main St. Therefore, I would suggest that a new parking lot be given consideration and then representatives of the merchants from the Main Street meet the police committee to discuss the problem. If this was done, no doubt, a great deal could be accomplished and everyone benefit by the results.

(4) Licensing of Bicycles
This has already been discussed in the report. Therefore, if adopted, I will then be prepared to submit the actual cost to municipalities where the licensing of bicycles is compulsory.

(5) Communication
Owing to the limited number of men on the Newmarket police force, it is very difficult to receive all calls and therefore to eliminate criticism in this respect, I would like to suggest that through the co-operation of Mr. Rancher, electrical superintendent, a series of police lights be placed in various places of the town by which we could be informed of any call immediately.

I have been informed that the system just mentioned could be installed very economically and would give satisfactory results.

The installation of a pay telephone in the police station to eliminate long distance calls has been discussed in the report and therefore I trust that the matter will be given your consideration.

(6) Equipment
The purchase of a brake testing machine has also been recommended in the report and if properly used will do considerably in reducing the number of accidents during the year 1940.

(7) Traffic Signs
In order that the motorists may have no excuse in regards to not seeing traffic signs, I would like to suggest that such signs be taken down, repaired and painted during the winter months.

This could quite easily be done by using a stencil and at a minimum expenditure to the town.

(8) Parking Signs
The elimination of the practice of motorists noting the "No Parking" signs to a position most suitable for parking a motor vehicle, I would suggest that such portable signs be replaced by those stationary, fixed according to town by-law regulations.

Special Constable

Although the subject of appointing a special constable has been mentioned and discussed on several occasions, the personnel of the Newmarket police force still remains at two officers. At a meeting of the police committee with this department in November, 1938, when the suspension of an officer was necessary, it was agreed that an appointment of a special constable would not be made on account of the reduction in the salary of the night patrol and unless some arrangements are made by which the reduction in salary might be eliminated, I suggest that the ruling still stands. However, I would like to draw your attention to the fact that the efficiency of this department has been reduced on many occasions as a result of not having a spare officer for special duty. When on duty at two officers, the town is left practically unprotected and the same condition exists when investigations require a Newmarket officer to leave town. Therefore, I believe this matter should be studied very carefully and an officer appointed according to the qualifications set out in recommendation (1).

(10) Prisoner Cost
As a result of recent discussions concerning the cost of lodging prisoners in the Newmarket cells, I feel that I would like to suggest what I consider a satisfactory arrangement with the county of York in regards to such cost.

In the place, the county should consider the Newmarket cells a necessary convenience especially since the Langstaff jail is no longer at the disposal of officers from this northern section.

Through the present cell accommodation supplied by this municipality, the county saves $3.80 mileage for every prisoner arrested and lodged in Newmarket cells. I arrive at this figure simply through the saving of one trip to Toronto, 30 miles at 12 cents per mile. For an example, persons have been arrested in Sutton, brought to Newmarket and lodged in the cells. Otherwise, it would have been necessary to transport them to Toronto, the officer returning to Sutton and again the following morning appearing in the Adelaide St. court in Toronto. Therefore, although the county was justified in offering opposition concerning some of the 1938 arrangements, I feel that under the arrangements set out below, the county will realize a great convenience and also benefit financially.

Recommendations
(a) That the county of York pay for all municipal prisoners with the exception of those arrested by Newmarket officers.
(b) That a charge of $1 per day for each inmate by the town of Newmarket, 12 o'clock midnight being the beginning of another day.
(c) That on court days, for the protection of the Newmarket court, the county of York be charged only for the prisoners' meals at the rate of 25c per meal.
(d) That under the above arrangements, Newmarket officers be responsible for all prisoners while being detained in the Newmarket cells.

Conclusion

In concluding this report, I wish to express the sincere appreciation of this department for the manner in which not only the police committee but the members of the council as a whole has stood behind the police of this municipality. This certainly has a tendency to create a clear understanding and thus a higher grade of efficiency. So often police are made the political football and as a result law enforcement suffers but in Newmarket this is not the case and constructive criticism will always be appreciated.

To the local press as well as other news agencies I wish to express our gratitude for their kind co-operation and assistance.

I want to thank the Newmarket citizens who so willingly offered their co-operation and assistance in the prevention of crime, especially to the children who were responsible for the clearing up of several outstanding cases.

For the assistance extended to this department by police officers of various municipalities, we owe considerable and for this I wish to express my appreciation.

And again I wish to extend to the police committee as well as all members of the council, my sincere appreciation for their courtesy and kind co-operation during the time I have been in office.

Friends are very sorry to hear that Mr. Gordon Kelly is not so well. He had an operation on Saturday and his mother went down to see him and he is still seriously ill.

The St. John's ambulance course is held in the school hall every Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The sudden death of Lord Tweedsmuir on Sunday evening was a great shock to everyone and much sympathy is expressed for the family.

Friends are very pleased to see that Mrs. F. Sherman is able to be out again.

A splendid representation of the women of the community attended the women's World Day of Prayer, which was held last Friday, in Christ church here. The meeting was in the charge of Mrs. J. Badland, who was assisted in the devotions by Mrs. J. Sutcliffe and Mrs. A. J. Forte. Scripture passages were read by Mrs. M. Brown, Mrs. R. Upson and Miss E. Young. The incumbent gave a short devotional address, based on the theme for the day, "In quietness and confidence shall be your strength."

Signs of the Time

In a busy section of the city one enterprising concern displayed in great illuminated letters "Open All Night." Next to it was a cafe bearing with equal prominence the sign "We Never Close."

Third in order was a Chinese laundry in a little low-framed hovel and upon the front of this building was the sign in great sprawling letters: "Me Wakee Too."

"What great battle was fought in Massachusetts?"

"The battle of Lexington."

WHITCHURCH COUNTY WILL SPEND $75,000 ON PAVING

The township of Whitchurch seems to have been singled out from all the municipalities in the entire County of York to have a piece of roadway designated for macadam this year by the Toronto York Road commission. It was pointed out by Reeve Earl Toole at the February meeting of the council last Saturday.

The expenditure will be around $75,000, and surfacing with hard top will be continued from the present pavement at Gormley to the railway overhead bridge at Vandonor. From this point to Bogartown the road will be graded and made ready for surfacing probably the following year. Both the government and the county are anxious to proceed with this work to provide a second highway between the two lakes, and thus relieve the traffic on Yonge St.

At Bogartown a new corner will be made by cutting across the farm of Charles Toole, a blue print indicated. Also at Pleasantville there will be a change in the corner, eliminating some land off the Starr, Evans and Beckett properties. Surveying has already been completed. Three plans were surveyed and one of these likely to be adopted was placed before the council. For the two corners, in the neighborhood of six and a half acres will have to be purchased. In accordance with the regulations in York county, the township will have to pay for the land, but it is not regarded as a big item, and council was asked to indicate their willingness to co-operate, which was given without dissension. The county bears the entire cost even to fencing, graveling, grading, etc., with the single exception of purchasing the land for the new corners. Reeve Toole said he did not anticipate this would be a serious item for the municipality.

Relief accounts for January totalled $220.17, which is quite a noticeable reduction over the heavy accounts which had to be met a few years ago.

It was decided to change some attachments on the truck plow in order that it would be more serviceable, and when completed the wing will have more lift to operate from the top of snowbanks to roll them back. "Our aim is to give complete satisfaction," said the Reeve.

Clerk John Crawford stated that despite the general improvement in roads this winter, removing snow had cost considerably less than at the same period last winter.

Hydro charges against properties at lot 20, con. 4, and a house in Vandonor, were on motion of Councilors Leary and Deputy-Reeve Cook, struck off, the same having been paid.

The treasurer was instructed to purchase a copy of the new manual on accounting, for use of townships and issued by the highways department.

The usual by-law applying for a subsidy on road work completed in 1940, was passed. The estimated expenditure was placed at $20,000, which is expected to exceed the amount that will actually be spent. However, it was pointed out that the estimate cannot be overspent without running a chance of being denied the subsidy, whereas if only $15,000 is actually spent no harm is done by having the estimate high. In the event of storms and flood, a municipality could easily turn this into a difficulty and have to bear the whole cost because the amount placed in the by-law required by the department of highways, was exceeded. The government wish to have some idea of the probable outlay in every township, in order that they may prepare for their 50 per cent of the total.

Under the new revision and set-up for maintaining township roads in the province, being instituted by the Ontario department of highways, the township of Whitchurch will only have six road foremen this year, instead of the customary 32.

The men appointed are Jos. Jones, Harold Desbary, Arthur Smith, Wesley Williams, Leslie Preston and Herbert Feggs. The first three will have specified beats covering the south half of the township, and the remaining three in the north, and the by-law setting up the new order was passed by the council. There will be a north and south division running from Yonge street to the 4th concession, two from the 4th to the 8th concession, and the remaining two divisions from the 8th to the east townline.

The new appointees were called together last week, and received full instructions as laid down by the new regulations of the department, a standard type of checking card will be used at gravel pits, and will be signed by no less than three people, while individual cheques must be issued for every workman, no matter how small the item may be.

The object is to establish a standard system over the province so that the work of departmental auditors will be lightened. Under the old system many different systems were in vogue, and the present change has been the subject of study by the department over a period of years.

PEPPER AND SALT

By Pep.

A couple of hundred students of the high school voted to pay ten cents for the school year, each month of the school year, at a caucus Monday. Following the pattern that is in use in most private colleges, this will give athletes, who are unlucky enough to break a leg, arm or pretzel, some green-backed help to recovery.

According to the agreement which the "policy-holders" are requested to sign, a committee to administer the funds will be formed, with Principal J. B.
Bastedo as chairman. Two teachers, one of whom must be the treasurer, and a boy and girl student, one of these secretary, complete this committee.

This group will judge the merit of each accident case and hand out a proportionate slice of lucre (being in French one can take a slice at it). Such a scheme is a well merited innovation and a big step forward for everyone concerned. Few families can smile off the cost of a bad accident.

Johnny O'Connor got nowhere fast in his tussle with Jackie Ball, Elm Grove A. C. welterweight, Monday night.
With this setback, bright lights and all that goes with the higher brackets in the mitt game are lost to Johnny for some time.
The climb up that fistic ladder is a long, hard grind.

By all accounts Johnny wasn't hurt in the scuffle but was simply "out-decided." It was Ball's second win in three tussles with O'Connor. This Elm Grove welterweight is certainly no piker, or George Bland, well-known in the fistic game himself, would hardly bother to coach him. Johnny will come into his own when balmy spring breezes begin to thaw out this burg. You can't lick an Irishman.

Birnie Hodgetts and Bob Hen-dershott, crack Pickering College ski artists, grabbed off a good share of the honors in Midland's annual ski event over the weekend. Hodgetts placed first in the slalom race and 12th in the downhill, while Hendershott placed second in both races. The meet was won by a Camp Borden aircraftman, Gordie Filman, jumping with a broken ski.
There always seems to be one or two skiers of championship calibre developing in Pickering College.

Herb Cain has jockeyed himself into a position to threaten the goal grabbing honors of the N.H.L. with a second place 18-goal standing against Hextall's 20. Tuesday night was another field day for Herb. A few more like that and he can kiss the other boys goodbye.

Incidentally, a high school
"hot-stove" league game played Tuesday vaulted the men of Myles McInnis into the lead.
They defeated Cliff Barker's team 6-2.

KESWICK

WOMEN TAKE PART IN INSPIRING SERVICE

The World Day of Prayer service was held in Keswick United church last Friday. Mrs. Coulson Cameron, the key woman for the district, assisted by Mrs. Wm.
Vail, president of the W.M.S., presided. The theme, "In quietness and in confidence shall be your strength," seemed particularly suitable for these times of stress and strain. Miss Joy Marriott was at the piano.

Mrs. Vail opened the service with the call to worship—"Be still and know that I am God."
This was followed by the singing of the majestic hymn, "O Worship the King," and a prayer in unison by the group. Mrs.
Cameron led the responsive reading, "In returning and rest shall ye be saved." The beautiful hymn, "Breathe on me breath of God," closed the first worship period.

The bible readings for John 15: 1-16 were read by Mrs.
Arthur Pedlar, Mrs. Percy Mahoney and Mrs. Fred Peel. Mrs.
Rye read the prayer by Thomas Kemps. Mrs. Vail led the second responsive reading, "The work of righteousness shall be peace, and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever." The hymn, "O Fount of Light Unfailing," was sung.

Mrs. O. M. King read a most interesting article on "Work done by World's Day of Prayer in 1939." The first report came from New Zealand, where the World
Day of Prayer opens, and a report from Alaska, where the day closes. Gratifying reports were read from England, India, China and Japan and other countries.
Mrs. Cameron led the third responsive reading, "And all dominions shall serve and obey Him." A prayer in unison, and the hymn, "O God, our Help in Ages Past," closed the second worship period.

This was followed by the period of intercession, led by Mrs. Vail. Miss Gilroy read the prayers for the king and queen and royal family. Mrs. Serrick then led the group in prayer.
Mrs. Grant read the prayer for "all who serve in our defence," and Mrs. Lunn led in prayer for all such groups. Mrs. Austin Huntley read the prayer for "all who suffer," and Mrs. Ferg.
Taylor led the group in prayer.
Mrs. Davidson read the prayer "for the strengthening of our national life," and Mrs. W. E.

Morton led in prayer. Mrs.
Fisher read the prayer for "missions," and Mrs. Judd Cole led in prayer for the work of the church everywhere.

Mrs. Baines read the prayer for "the church," and Mrs. McGen-erly led in prayer. Mrs. Pedlar read the "Prayer in time of war."
The psalm hymn, "Unto the hills around do I lift up my longing eyes" closed the period of intercession.

A never-to-be-forgotten part of the service was the short, very beautiful, inspirational address given by Mrs. Wm. Pollard on "Be still and know that I am God." Mrs. Pollard's words will live long in the hearts of all who listened.

During the offertory, Miss M.
Glover and Miss Margaret Fock-ler sang a lovely duet, "Sweet hour of prayer." Mrs. O. Huntley and Mrs. Vaughan received the offering, and Mrs. Cameron led in the "Act of dedication." The great mission hymn, "We thank Thee that Thy church unsleeping," closed the devotional service. A short business meeting followed, when Mrs. Coulson Cameron was again elected key woman for this district, and a fine tribute was paid by her to Mrs. Perry Winch, county key woman, who was unable to be present. The service closed with the benediction, led by Mrs. Vail.

A large group of women from both Christian and United churches attended. The women of Ravenshoe area had been invited, but owing to road conditions were unable to attend.

KESWICK

AGED LADY HEARS SOLO VIA TELEPHONE

The Red Cross box social will be held on Friday evening in Kes-wick schoolhouse. There will be cards and all kinds of games. The social is under the auspices of the Keswick Red Cross society. The proceeds will be used for the Red Cross. There will be a sale of boxes and a good time is expected.
All are asked to come out and enjoy themselves and support the Red Cross. The maximum price for boxes will be 50 cents.

The stove demonstration sponsored by the Institutes of Roche's Point, Lakeside and Elmhurst, at Belhaven township hall on Wednesday night of last week, was well attended. The slides from pictures taken by Mr. Moffat, Jr., while in South Africa, were very interesting and his descriptions of the people and wild animal life of South Africa were greatly enjoyed. Moving pictures of England were shown, but because of the "blackout" caused by the electric lights going off, the pictures of New Zealand, Australia and the Pacific Islands which Mr. Moffat had intended putting on the screen were not shown. In the lucky draw, Mrs. Wm. Whitaker received a cooked ham. Miss Main received a tea kettle. Other smaller prizes were won by members of the audience.

A very enjoyable tea was given at Hollywood Lodge, Island Grove, by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Babb for the Women's Association of Kes-wick United church. The cosy rooms, which were tastefully decorated with colorful spring flowers, were well filled with a large number of women. A number of men also attended. It was estimated that nearly 100 people were there.
Miss Pearl Brock, well-known Toronto singer, sang very beautifully several groups of well-chosen songs. Mrs. Clara Discher accompanied Miss Brock at the piano.
During the first number, "Through the Years," telephone connection was made with the home of Mrs.
Woods, so that the aged lady,
member of Keswick United church, might enjoy the selection. The solo, "Prayer," sung by Miss Brock, was especially appropriate for these troubled times.

Miss Margaret Fockler conducted two contests, one a leap year contest, the other a "Who knows 12" contest. Mrs. George Hamilton, Mrs. George White,
Mrs. Francis Morton and Miss Joy Marriott were winners in these contests. George Hamilton and Rev. Mr. Fockler were judges in the first contest. Mrs. Peel, Mrs.
Friend Morton and others were awarded gifts in the lucky draw and birthday contests. A presentation of a cake was made to Mrs. Fockler. As Mrs. Fockler was not present, Rev. Mr. Fockler and Miss Margaret Fockler accepted the gift.

Mrs. Wm. Vail gave a reading by Jean Blissett. In her own lively way, Mrs. McGenery, president of the Women's Association, was a charming chairman.

After a beautiful and delicious lunch it was time to go home. Mrs.
H. G. Cooper, sister of Mrs. Babb,
Mrs. G. Gorham of Toronto, Mrs.
Ethel Morton, Mrs. Francis Morton, Miss Nellie Hamilton, Mrs.
Ewart VanNorman and Miss Margaret Fockler assisted Mrs. Babb in serving lunch. A vote of thanks, heartily applauded, was moved to Mr. and Mrs. Babb for the use of their home and for the good time all had enjoyed.

There will be prayer service in the Keswick United church on Thursday evening. It is important that those prayer meetings be well attended during Lent, in preparation for the Easter season. Rev.
C. E. Fockler in his Sunday sermons spoke of the significance of the Lenten season.
Miss Evelyn Arnold visited at the home of her parents over the weekend.
Mrs. L. P. Mother of Newmarket visited her mother last weekend.
Mrs. C. E. Fockler has been in Markham this last week because of the illness of her sister.
A number of friends called on Mr. Wm. Marriott on his 81st birthday on Tuesday, Feb. 8, to wish

BETHEL

FAMILY GATHERS FOR 86TH BIRTHDAY

Bethel young people are planning to hold a Valentine social evening at the home of Mrs. Cameron on Wednesday evening.
All are glad to see Mrs. D. Earl around again after being confined to her bed for some weeks.
Mr. McAlpine's son, Horace, has joined up with the army.
The snow-plow is certainly making a fine job of the roads these days.

Quite a number turned out from this locality to see a stove company cooking demonstration, which was held in Belhaven community hall, sponsored by the Elmhurst
W. I.

Miss F. Whitaker was the holder of the lucky number and received a fine ham; Miss Maine came second and received a lovely teapot.
Everyone reported a good time.
G. Fairbairn and Harold Smith have been making use of the good slighting on the highway, by getting there ice-houses filled.

Mr. N. Arksey celebrated his 86th birthday on Jan. 29. His family gathered at his home for the occasion.
Mr. T. W. Huntley has also just celebrated another milestone. He claims he is quite young and active, walking to Bethel church occasionally.

The Bethel W. A. held its February meeting at the home of Mrs.
D. Cooper. The hostess served a lovely dinner in place of tea, which at this time of the year was enjoyed by everyone.
The day of prayer was observed at Bethel United church on Friday, where prayers were offered for the sick, and conditions of the world.

A number of friends, Mrs.
R. Huntley, T. W. Huntley and Mrs. H. Winch, called to see Mrs.
D. Earl and Mrs. G. Fairbairn, who have been unable to get out.
Mrs. Fred Foster of Mount Albert and Little Don McAlpine were visiting at the home of Mrs.
Harold Smith for a few days last week.

The Belhaven W. I. wishes to thank all those who are not members of the Institute for their help in knitting up the wool that the Institute bought.

Among others who helped, Mrs.
G. Stonehouse knitted six pairs and Mrs. C. J. Draper knitted four pairs of socks.

Mrs. Alleen Fairbairn had dinner at Mrs. D. Cooper's last Sunday.
Mr. Donald Cameron was visiting in the city for the weekend.
Kenneth Fairbairn was home on Sunday.

Monday in Newmarket.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sedore attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Robert White of Toronto, who was buried in Queensville cemetery.

Sammy was not prone to over-exertion in the classroom. Therefore, his mother was both surprised and pleased when he came home with the announcement: "I got a hundred this morning."

"That's lovely, dear," she said,
as she kissed the boy tenderly.
"What was it in?" she asked.
"Fifty in composition and 50 in grammar."

Maple Hill

The attendance at both services last Sunday was very good, owing to the nice day. The pastor took for his text, Matt.
22: 4; also Rev. 22: 17: "Come, all things are ready." Ruth and Rene Knights sang.

The prayer meeting will be held on Friday evening at the home of Wm. McGill.
Mrs. Robert Knights is slowly improving. Mrs. Knight's aunt, who has been nursing her, has returned to her home, and her sister, Mrs. Allan, is caring for her at present.

in Toronto nursing her sister who is ill.

Friends are sorry to hear Mrs.
Harry Knights is sick with influenza. All hope to see her out again soon.

The day of prayer service in the United Sunday-school was quite well attended, considering that some were unable to come to the service on account of sickness.

The Y. P. S., who were to go to Keswick on Monday evening last, were disappointed, as the weather and roads made the trip impossible.

A newlywed couple in town on Saturday evening was the cause of the chivalry. The boys had the usual type of musical instruments on such occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Law, and ably.

ENTHUSE OVER

Richmond Hill; 3rd vice-pres., Mrs. Wm. Duncan, Richmond Hill; secretary, Arleigh Armstrong, Newmarket; assistant secretary, Nelson Boylen, Weston; treasurer, Dr. S. J. Boyd.

There were 267 persons present, according to the official count. All were entitled to vote, in accordance with the open convention arrangement.

Nominees were Capt. W. H. Wallace, Sutton; Dr. C. R. Boulding, Aurora; Dr. S. J. Boyd, Newmarket; Mrs. Ruby Train, Nobleton; Clifford Case, Aurora; Harold Breuls, Toronto, and Rev. Geo. Dix, Truro, N.S.

In nominating Rev. Mr. Dix, Paul Angle, Richmond Hill, who had led the Reconstruction campaign in 1935, said that he had learned at that time that Capt. Dix was the best candidate for any party, and stressed his "high personal qualities."

"He believes that both old parties have failed," said Mr. Angle, himself at one time a Liberal. "He is not tied up to any party. He has ideas of his own."

"I wish to thank you for the nomination," said Mr. Dix. "I feel the responsibility keenly."

"Four years ago I campaigned for principles which I still maintain. I am not interested in party politics as such. I am interested first in the prosecution of the war, and that needs the best element and the best effort that can be obtained from all groups of opinion."

"Mr. King missed his chance to secure unity when he failed to call into his government other groups when war was declared. He said they needed men of experience. I don't know that the King government have too much experience. Mr. King got his experience on the Manhattan line."

"I not only know the results of war, and the effect of it, but I know the problems that will arise when the war is finished. They are no less serious than the war itself. That is another reason that I am interested in a national government, so that the combined experience, thought and effort of various elements in the country can solve the very important economic problems that will occur after the war."

"This war is different from the wars of the past. Past wars have been political, to establish political rights and boundaries. This war is caused by economic problems, and the economic problems to be faced after the war will be greater than they have ever been."

ORATORICAL CONTEST
WILL BE HELD FEB. 26

The Whitechurch township annual temperance oratorical contest will be held in Wesley United church on Monday, Feb. 26, at 8 p.m.

Besides several contestants already entered, a good program will be provided, consisting of vocal selections by Mrs. B. Hill of Newmarket, Harry West's orchestra and Wesley Young People's quartet.

Contestants wishing to enter may receive information from Mrs. E. Starr, R. R. 3, Newmarket, H. E. Oliver, Gormley, or L. E. Ewart, Newmarket, R. R. 3.

ORGANIZE TEMPERANCE

At a meeting of the North York Temperance Federation executive, held at Richmond Hill on Jan. 10, it was decided to hold a county oratorical temperance contest under the supervision of the following conveners of the various municipalities: Whitechurch, Charles Atkinson, Stouffville, R.R.; King, R. J. Forester, King R.R.; H. E. Ross, King R.R.; Vaughan, J. Rose, Maple; J. N. Kincaid, Maple; East Gwillimbury, Fred Glover, Newmarket R.R.; Wm. Holborn, Ravenshoe; North Gwillimbury, Robert Hamilton, Itcho's Point; Mrs. Perry Winch, Keswick R.R.; Georgina, Ed. Corner, Virginia.

Markham, Fraser Coe, Gormley; Herb. Smith, Gormley; North York, Rev. A. H. Halbert, Newtonbrook; W. I. New, Newtonbrook; Newmarket, Geo. Wark, Burton Hill, Miss L. Starr, Aurora, W. J. Bassett, Etnatus Harmon; Richmond Hill, Rev. J. D. Cunningham; Mrs. Wilson; Woodbridge, Mrs. Berry; Stouffville, Rev. Herb. See, Lambert Stouffer; Sutton, Dr. Harold Lennox, Sutton West.

Sheets listing the oration topics and the provincial temperance federation rules for these contests, sufficient for all Sunday-schools, and the following letter were sent by Mrs. Elma M. Starr, Star Elm R.R. 3, Newmarket, convenor for childhood and youth in North York, on Jan. 20, to the conveners of the municipalities.

"It is now time to promptly prepare for the local oratorical temperance contests in order to have the winners from them ready for the township contests to be arranged for in townships and towns by the municipal conveners."

"The winners from each of the three grades in township contests are asked to come to the county contest to be held at King on March 1 at 8 p.m. in the United church."

"A temperance leaders' and workers' conference is arranged for 4 p.m. on the same day. Come with your problems and help them solve them. Supper for this convention is to be served at 6 p.m."

"Where there is not already a township organization to assist municipalities in arranging for a township meeting to hear the winners from the municipal contests, please advise Rev. R. A. Whittam of the Ontario Temperance Federation, 30 Bloor Street W., Toronto."

"Please inform me promptly of the results of the township rally so I can make up the list of speakers for county convention."

"Let us not only maintain and still further advance North York's reputation as an enthusiastic temperance working area, but earnestly strive to create universal public sentiment for total abstinence from the use of alcoholic beverages. The welfare of our youth and our country demand it, especially in these times of national and international stress."

Now, nearly three weeks later, it is heartening to learn from various places that there is a good response to this effort in this suffering cause, and prospects are growing for an enthusiastic rally at King on March 1.

WARNS CRASH

erly of Toronto and a graduate of Oswald Smith's tabernacle, is have shown us how insecure are the fortunes men have made, whether they made them honestly or not. And the years to come will show it perhaps even more.

"The world is one, and we have built insecurely. We will have to rebuild."

"There will be another depression after this war. We are preparing for it now by getting people working at things that are non-productive."

Miss Jean Davis sang a lovely solo, and the double trio of the junior choir, Misses Lois Geer, Jean Howlett, Jean Robertson, June Hill, Dorothy Pipher and Joyce Bothwell, sang effectively. The senior choir gave a beautiful anthem.

Rev. R. R. McMahon conducted the service.
